GREAT STORM INJURES 15 ON BOARD OF SHIP

Tons of Water Pour Over Vessel; Captain Lashed To Wheel Six Days

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—The giant steamship Leviathan, world's largest ship, came into port today with fifteen injured passengers as the toll of the worst gale her captain has ever experienced.

Three decks were smashed, more than fifty portholes shattered and wreckage strewn along her decks.

The Leviathan was torn and battered by a gale a few hours after leaving Southampton. For six days and fourteen hours Captain Herbert Hartley, lashed to the wheel, guided the ship through the storm.

Four passengers were bandaged on their heads when they landed today and others limped. Three stewards held useless arms in slings. Two more were in the hospital bay.

Ball Player Hero
On November 29 a tremendous wave struck the ship which crashed over on her side from the impact.

Tons of water poured across the decks and washed everything that was loose overboard.

Robert H. Putnam, wealthy Chicagoan, and his wife, were injured. They were carried to safety by "Stuffy" McInnis of the Boston Braves.

Chaplin's Girl Bride Is Only 16, Relatives Say

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 2.—When Lita Grey, whose true name was Lillian Louise McGray, married Charlie Chaplin in Empalme, Mexico, last week she gained three years in age. Mrs. Chaplin, her relatives admitted here today, is only 16. The comedian is 35. She was born in Chahuenga, district of Hollywood, April 15, 1908, according to official birth records here and her grandfather, W. E. Curry, admitted today Mrs. Chaplin was only 16.

"Business reasons made it necessary to give the age as 19 when Lita was married in Mexico," Mrs. Chaplin's mother, Mrs. Chaplin's mother, said. Mr. and Mrs. Chaplin were barricaded in the forty-room Chaplin castle in Hollywood and refused to answer telephone or door bells.

Berkeley Banker Found Dead With Throat Cut

BERKELEY, Dec. 2.—The body of B. H. Griffiths, 52, retired Berkeley banker, was found on the tide flats here early today. His throat was slashed. Final arrangements for the game were made today when the Los Angeles university authorities received acceptance of the invitation to play here.

The Missouri game will give the Trojans their second post-season intersectional clash, as they play Syracuse here Saturday.

Speed King Makes New Record on Big Culver City Track

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 2.—Warming up for the speedway inaugural races here Sunday, Harry Hartz, Los Angeles driver, established a new world's record for circular tracks today. He circled the big turn at Culver City going 130.8 miles per hour under official timing.

Tommy Milton previously had proved that the new million dollar speedway is the fastest auto race track in the world.

Milton established a sensational new world's record on the track within a few minutes after it was thrown open for practice for the inaugural 250-mile classic next Sunday.

He turned the mile and a quarter track in 34.8 seconds, which is an average of 129.31 miles per hour. This terrific speed exceeds the record of 128 miles an hour set by Bennett Hill at Charlotte, N. C., last month.

BILLBOARDS CAUSE OF DISPUTE

City Council Argues Over Amended Ordinance at Its Session Today

By a vote of three to two, the amended billboard ordinance, which has been a storm center for several months, was passed by the City Council this afternoon. Members of the council voting in favor of the ordinance were Mayor Robinson, Councilmen Hall and Davis. Those opposed to the ordinance were Councilmen Kimlin and Gilhuly. The amended ordinance changes the license fee from $100 a year to 25 cents per square foot per year.

After one of the most heated discussions that has ever agitated the atmosphere of the council chamber, the Glendale city council adjourned at 12:30 o'clock today, to reconvene at 1:30 o'clock.

The spark that ignited the powder was the amended billboard ordinance, up for passage today.

Wayne Alles, special representative of the Foster & Kleiser Co., billboard advertisers, outlined to the council the cost of operating their business, in an attempt to show that their rentals were not out of proportion to the rentals derived by taxpayers from income property.

Tells Net Profit
The net profit earned by the company last year was $11.4 per cent on a capital of approximately $15,000,000, he admitted.

The present license fee of $100 a year, prescribed by the existing Glendale ordinance, exceeds that of 113 other American cities of over 50,000 population, declared Mr. Alles, adding that the proposed amendment, putting taxation on a 25 cents per square foot basis, is both inaccurate and unfair.

Draws Comparison
Councilman Sam Davis—"I have a building in Glendale, assessed at $18,000, and taxed $380 this year. I get $125 a month rent for this building—and you get $150 a month rent for your boards."

Mr. Alles—"That is not a fair presentation of the case."

Councilman Davis—"There is a wave of indignation that in time will wipe billboards out of the country. You pay your artists a lot but I prefer my art in museums."

Councilman S. S. Gilhuly—"There are ninety per cent of Glendale people who want billboards."

Councilman Davis—"That is not so."

Decision that immediate steps must be taken to curb the activities of eastern gunmen in Los Angeles and nearby towns, came after a meeting here of representatives of the police department, sheriff's office and the district attorney's staff.

"Shoot to kill," was the orders passed to police today, when it was learned that several of the fastest shooting "mobs" of eastern gunmen have started for this city.

RADIO CLEW MAY SOLVE MYSTERY

Plans W. R. Fee, Banker, Used Before His Death, Found In Canyon

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Dec. 2.—A radio clew was uncovered today in the investigation of the mysterious death of William H. Fee, wealthy Alhambra banker, whose body was found in a canyon near here beside the cabin of his "pure passion" sweetheart, Mary Watkins.

The clew consisted of a set of radio plans, bearing the name "Fee," and an unfinished letter, ending in a scrawl, found in the stove of a mountain cabin, sixty yards from the spot where the banker's body was discovered a week ago.

Officers said the banker was working on the radio at his canyon lodge just before his strange disappearance. A pruning knife was found in Fee's hands and he was believed to have been trimming a tree in connection with installation of his radio when he met death.

Ends Suddenly
The unfinished letter was largely obliterated by smoke and ashes, but was said to resemble Fee's handwriting. It was written in pencil and in a final scrawl ran off the paper as if the hand which wrote it had made the last

The young mother had been semiconscious since her release from a maternity hospital a week ago last Sunday. A nurse was engaged to care for her and her infants.

PRESIDENT POINTS OUT REDUCTION IN COST OF OPERATING GOVERNMENT

Many Millions Will Be Saved As Result of Efficient Methods and Coolidge's Curb on Extravagant, Useless Expenditures

By H. K. REYNOLDS
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—President Coolidge today told Congress how to keep on reducing taxes. It can only be done, he said, by continuing the government's present policy of strict and unyielding economy. Transmitting to Congress the federal budget for the fiscal year 1925-26, the president revealed that a surplus of $67,000,000 is anticipated at the end of the current fiscal year on June 30, 1925, and that the surplus for the next year is expected to be nearly $374,000,000.

"We are now in the fourth year of our campaign for the reduction of the cost of government," the president said in a special message read in both houses this afternoon. "Our aim is to reduce the burden of taxes. In this we have been successful. We are fast reducing our expenditures to a minimum consistent with efficient service. We have before us an estimated surplus of $67,000,000 for the current year and $373,000,000 for the next year. Shall we embark upon new projects involving expenditures which will prevent the accumulation of these expected surpluses or shall we continue the campaign for economy? I am for economy. If we continue the campaign for economy we will pave the way for further reduction in taxes."

Mr. Coolidge added, however, that this promised reduction could not be effected immediately and indicated that he was not in favor of the tax problem being taken up by a special session of Congress after March 4, as had been suggested in some quarters.

Army and Navy Expenses Slashed

"Before it is undertaken," he explained, "we should know more definitely by actual operation what our revenues will be under our present law, but the knowledge of our revenues under the existing law will avail us nothing if we embark upon any new large expenditure program."

In accordance with the president's economy program, the government's ordinary expenditures for the next fiscal year will be more

DAWES PLAN WILL AID ALL NATIONS

Henry W. Robinson, Member Of Commission, Speaks At C. C. Meeting

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 2.—The Dawes reparations plans will mean increased markets for all nations, Henry M. Robinson, Los Angeles banker, member of the Dawes commission, told 1,000 delegates from eleven western states and Hawaii gathered here today at the mid-year meeting of the western division of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Speaking at a luncheon given by the International Chamber of Commerce with headquarters in Paris, Robinson declared that while some adjustments in the Dawes plan may be necessary later, the fact that "commercial instead of political formulae" have been established "means problems of the world may be met in a different spirit than in the past and they can be met satisfactorily."

Mayor George E. Cryer of Los Angeles welcomed the delegates and Paul Shoup, vice-president of the Southern Pacific railway, presided.

Other Speakers
Featuring today's session was an address by Dr. A. R. Taylor, director of food research at Stanford university. Dr. Taylor discussed "the business of farming."

Hardin, president of the California Farm Bureau federation, Santa Paula; Charles Teague, president of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange and president of the California Walnut Growers' association, Santa Paula; Ralph P. Merrill, president of the San Ma'd Raisin Growers' association, Fresno; Thomas Edward Campbell, ex-governor of Arizona; Oswald Wilson, editor "Sugar Beet Journal," San Francisco, and E. R. Faville, editor "Western Farmer," Portland, Ore.

Delegates from San Francisco and northern California arrived this morning on a special train and Richard F. Grant of Cleveland, Ohio, came in a special car from the east. Grant is president of the National chamber,

ITALY, BELGIUM MAY FUND DEBTS

His party will be quartered as any casual passengers, and while they will fill one car to overflowing, it will not be a special car in the ordinary sense and there will be nothing to prevent passengers from passing through it. Meals will be served from the regular diner.

GREAT LAKES FALL WORRIES U. S.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Diplomatic parleys between the United States and Canada may result from a fall of about two feet in the water level of the Great Lakes, Secretary of Commerce Hoover said today. Canada has protested informally to this government because of the heavy economic loss occasioned by the new lake level, which has caused lightening of cargoes of lake vessels.

186 MILLIONS CONTAINED IN URGENT MEASURE

Delayed by Filibuster at Last Session, Goes to President Coolidge

By WM. K. HUTCHINSON
For International News Service.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—With only brief debate, the Senate today passed the $186,000,000 deficiency appropriation bill.

The bill was blocked in the closing days of the last session as a result of filibuster by Senator Pittman, Democrat, of Nevada, who objected because appropriations for reclamation projects in his state was decreased.

When Pittman announced that an adjustment satisfactory to him had been made during the summer by the interior department, the conference report on the bill was immediately approved. The bill now goes to President Coolidge for signature.

Congress put on its working clothes today and got down to business. The Senate tackled the $186,000,000 urgent deficiency bill, left over from the last session, which has already passed the House, and which provides money for a variety of government needs.

Many Items in Bill
The House started grinding on the big appropriation bills that are expected to occupy almost all of the present session.

The issue between the Republican regulars and the insurgents has been left burning—with a time fuse attached.

The appropriation bill called upon in the Senate today carried heavy sums for the soldiers' bonus, irrigation projects, tax refunds and endorsement of the naval disarmament treaty. A hundred minor appropriations swelled the total.

The largest item of the bill was an authorization of $100,000,000 for payment of bonus certificates with an additional sum of $26,629,398 for payment of the $50 cash awards. The veterans' bureau also would receive $900,000 for vocational training, $350,000 for a national training school and $750,000 for administrative work on the bonus.

A fund of $10,950,000 was set aside for enforcement of the national prohibition law.

SIERRA WONDERS TOLD BY CLIMBER

Alfred Cookman, Who Scaled
Mt. Langley, Describes Journey to Top

By ALFRED COOKMAN, M.S.,
of Glendale, President Los Angeles, California Nature Club.

The mountain has more than once been characterized as "the backbone" of the globe or of the continent; but one cannot think of the simile other than misleading. Our globe has no more backbone than a tennis ball. A mountain ridge is a bulge or break in the dome of masonry upheaved by a shrinkage in the earth's crust.
The lateral pressure has produced the youthful range. This tremendous upheaval has produced the wrinkles of mountain chains and the loose soil that lay above the rocks was rolled back into the valleys, leaving the rugged edges of the crust exposed to view.

Mountains are born. They pass the infant stage, reach maturity as the centuries go by and mountains will die. The hammering forces of erosion are at work.
Seasons come and go. Yes, our mountains are gradually wearing down and they will disappear. The old world is dying.

The Alps, the Himalayas, the lofty Rockies are the oldest and most permanent of the earth's formations; and the steadfast mountains, "the everlasting hills,"
"the eternal Alps" and the "Canadian Rockies" are the common figures of speech used about them.
The lofty Sierra Nevada mountains of California are youthful mountain formations. There is a majesty and sublime beauty in our mountain ranges. California is particularly fortunate in having within her confines, one of the most attractive and most precipitous mountain chains extending for a thousand miles and more placed along the eastern border of her state. Her mountains are usually crowned with perpetual snows and her valleys blossom with roses and wild flowers.

Ascent Is Started
On August 5, 1924, Dr. H. J.
Andrews of Hollywood, his son Harold, and the writer, motored across the great Mojave Desert to Lone Pine in Inyo county for a week's outing in the Southern High Sierras. We were to follow the trail in a day and a half, preferring to visit the Cosco Hot Spring, 20 miles back in the Cosco mountains en route to the High Sierras. We reached Carl Camp on August 6 at sunset. The following morning, we ascended the mountain trail on horse-back and arrived at "Golden Trout" Camp at 4:30 o'clock at an altitude of 10,000 feet. It was after 5 o'clock on August 7, when we finally reached our destination at the edge of the Cottonwood lakes at an elevation of 10,500 feet, away back in the very heart of the wildest section of the High Sierras.

We pitched our camp among huge granite rocks 200 yards from Lake No. 1. A ranger shot a mountain lion near Lake No. 1 nine feet long a few weeks previous. The air was invigorating and the breeze quite noticeable.
We certainly noticed the effect of the light air pressure and found that our respiration was affected and our strength was taxed to a certain degree. This was to be expected.

The writer recorded 22 species of wild birds and collected several for his collection. Six species of mammals were taken. The wood-chuck, the chipmunk and the mountain beaver and ground squirrels were interesting species to note in our rambles. The lakes are teeming with "golden trout," one of the finest species of freshwater teleostomi in the world. I have never eaten such choice fish and have never seen such gorgeous colors embodied in the flesh.

Plenty of Fish
The "rain-bow" and the "speckled trout" are beauties, but for exquisite beauty and class, I would prefer the "golden trout," of the High Sierras. They are found nowhere else in the world except in the upper Kern river, the original home, in the streams beyond Bishop to the "Rain-Bow" falls and in all the lakes within a radius of a hundred miles around Mt. Whitney. If you have never visited the "High Sierras," you have missed a treat. You have never seen such lakes. Chains of lakes, and all are well stocked with gamey fish—fish that fight to the last drop of blood.

There was snow in the High Sierras at the Cottonwood lakes this summer. The wild flowers were vanishing. The pines looked weather-beaten, neglected and worn by the erosive forces. It takes nature 100 years to grow a pine. They may survive for a thousand years or more. The struggle for existence must be intense. Beyond the 11,000 feet elevation life diminishes rapidly.
The last of the pines are reached —the end of the timberline. Beyond and up to 14,000 feet, we noticed that life was wanting. At 13,000 feet every trace of vegetation had vanished. Nothing but rocks—black and barren precipitous rock formations were observed in our ascent to the very top of "Old Mt. Langley," 14,402 feet.

For five days we whipped the streams for trout. Fished in the blue lakes in the Cottonwood lake area, scaled jagged cliffs and precipitous crags for biological specimens and to get photographs.
Such scenic beauty—marvelous outlooks, far-reaching, sublime and wonderful. There is a lure of the mountains, a strange fascination that entralls you, overwhelms the mind. It is thrilling.

On August 9, and long before the sun had risen over the lofty summits, Dr. Andrews and the writer rolled out of their blankets, ate a light, but substantial breakfast, filled our canteens with mountain water, packed a light

lunch and with guns and camera, waved farewell to some campers.
We struck out to climb Mt. Langley, 14,402 feet in the Southern High Sierras. Mt. Langley is the second highest mountain peak in the United States. Mt. Whitney, ten miles north of Langley and just out from Lone Pine towers 14,502 feet and is the highest mountain in the United States.
For twenty years Mt. Langley was called Mt. Whitney until recently, the U. S. Geological Survey discovered that what is now known as Mt. Whitney was the highest summit.

It was a perilous climb. We encountered many difficulties and suffered physical strain. We were dizzy and tired. Our heads ached and our heart beat was 106. The air was extremely cold and light.
The sun was penetrating and later in the afternoon, a stiff wind came up that swept across the summit at a velocity of 50 miles an hour and this was followed by an adjacent peak. We stopped to rest at the 13,570 foot mark.
Several pictures were taken. Dr.
Andrews went on ahead and reached the summit. I fired a cheer. I reached the top at 2:30 p. m. I could not resist the temptation to throw my arms around the small rocky monument at the top and laugh with satisfaction.
We had reached the top of Langley. All in, but we made it!

Sign Sierra Scroll
We signed the Sierra scroll wrapped in a metal tube which entitles us to life membership in the Sierra club of California, so I am told. Only a few hikers have signed this scroll. Mt. Langley has nineteen feet of snow on her summit after the first of October.
In fact, no one dares to visit the Cottonwood lakes after October 1. The entire country is blanketed with snow and ice. We remained at the top about 20 minutes. From one angle, we looked down 3000 feet into the adjoining canyon and tested out the echo of falling rocks over this steep precipice. We were advised not to remain up there more than 30 minutes on account of the terrifi-

Mrs. MacMullin Leads In Madrigal Campaign

yesterday at First Congrega-tional church. Mrs. C. A. Parker was in charge of the rehearsal.

electrical storms that often sweep over the lofty peaks in the High Sierras.

It took us seven hours to make the ascent and three hours to return to our camp. We were overjoyed at having climbed Mt.
Langley. Specimens of plant, mineral and animal life were gathered on the ascent to the top.
On August 10, we bade "aloha" to the Cottonwood lakes and returned to Los Angeles just as night drew her curtain over the land and another day was dying in the west. We thoroughly enjoyed the expedition and the memory will linger in our minds.
No, never will we forget our perilous journey up old Mt. Langley in the Southern High Sierras of California.

Glendale Painter Has Works on Exhibition

Much praise is being given John W. Cotton, painter and etch-er, who resides at 1262 East Colorado street, Glendale, for the exhibit of thirty-four oils, water colors, aquatints and line etch-ings being exhibited until Friday in the Friday Morning clubhouse, Los Angeles. One critic who has visited the exhibit says:
"The display proves what we have known for some time from other exhibitions, that the artist is a man of great versatility and that he is almost equally at home in oil, water or acid. When in France and Belgium at the time of the war he had exceptional opportunities to study the picturesque houses and streets of the cities and villages, and many of these happy records are found in the present exhibition, in all the mediums that he employs. Some of the most delightful are the little etchings that he calls his 'group of greeting cards.' In his aquatints, which have often a sort of classic beauty of composition, Cotton is not afraid to make use of broad expanses of color, pure and bright. And he prints these aquatints beautifully with delicate gradations of tone where tone is needed."

Famous Blackmail Case Decision Favors Bank

LONDON, Dec. 2.—Lord Darling, presiding justice in England's most famous blackmail case, returned a decision for the Midland bank today, refusing the claim of Charles Robinson to $625,000 he said was withdrawn from the bank on a forged check.

Lord Darling interpreted the law in the case after the jury had decided that Robinson and his pretty wife Maude, were not members of the conspiracy whereby
"Mr. A." multi-millionaire prince of India paid $750,000 to quiet what he supposed was the ire of a betrayed husband and keep his name from the divorce courts.

GUILD HALL SCENE OF MEETING

Members of Girls' Friendly Society of Episcopal Church Gather

Mrs. W. B. Stevens, president of the Girls' Friendly society of the Los Angeles Episcopal diocese, was the guest of honor at the meeting of the Girls' Friendly society of St. Mark's Episcopal church held last night at the Guild hall. Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock by Mrs. Annette Powers, and the girls of her group. The tables were attractively decorated with large bouquets of marigolds and baby's breath.

Following the dinner, Mrs. Stevens conducted the devotional service and then gave a talk on the society. In her talk, Mrs. Stevens told of the founding of the society in England, stating that the society would celebrate its fiftieth anniversary next year.

The society was originally formed for the servant girls in England who had no social life and the main thought of the society was to do away with class distinction, she said. The girls were grouped together for social meetings and later a constitution was drafted, she said. Mrs. Stevens stated that in the Great Britain branch of the society there are 500,000 girls and in the United States there are 50,000 members.

Aids Travelers
The Girls' Friendly society gives the same aid to girls all over the world as the Travelers Aid society and if word is telegraphed ahead members of the society will meet them and see that the traveler is cared for during her stay in the city, she said. A girl coming from Great Britain to the United States is allowed to transfer from the one society to the other, Mrs. Stevens stated.

The Girls' Friendly lodge, in Los Angeles, of which Mrs. Stevens is a member of the board of directors, was described by Mrs. Stevens. She stated that at the present time there are thirty-two working girls living there. The girls at the lodge are given the same privileges as they would have at their own home, she said.

The business meeting was directed by Miss Grace Crampton, president. Miss Crampton and Miss Beena Jensen gave a report

Arrest Man Wanted In Arizona on Warrant

W. T. Clack, wanted in Arizona on a statutory charge, was arrested at the Glendale post office yesterday afternoon when he called for a "phone" package posted to him by the Glendale police department, to 420 West Colorado boulevard, where he was known to receive mail. The ruse was worked by Detective Lieutenant V. J. Royle. Clack is being held at local headquarters, pending instructions from the sheriff of Mojave county, Arizona, who was wired by Chief John D. Fraser yesterday afternoon, on arrest of the man.

Spanish War Veterans Will Elect Tonight

Spanish War Veterans of the local camp will hold election of officers tomorrow night in the K. P. hall on South Brand boulevard at Park avenue. Commander L. D. Pike states that the meeting will begin at 8 o'clock and it is desired that all members attend.

HUMANE SOCIETY PLANS CUSTODIAN

Caretaker for Animals to Be Hired; Meeting Held
Last Night

It was decided to hire an animal custodian at the regular meeting of the Glendale Humane society held last night at the chamber of commerce offices, 150 South Brand boulevard. A committee composed of Mrs. Edwin Kulp, Mrs. J. L. Murphy and Mrs. E. Zink will investigate a number of applications which have been made for the position and will decide upon one of them.

President Kulp presided at the meeting last night which was largely attended. A report on the silver cup offered by Mrs. F. S. Card for the most popular cat at the Glendale cat show, now in progress, was made. President Kulp called attention to the Humane society's full page advertisement in the cat show program. The ad was written by Arthur D. Smith, a member of the society.

Mrs. Card and Mrs. Zink were appointed on a committee to solicit pledges and memberships during the remainder of the cat show. They will have a booth at the show tonight.

DEADLINE ON XMAS MAIL IS SET

Assistant Postmaster Hallett
Stresses Early Dispatch
Of Yuletide Gifts

Deadlines for mailing packages from Glendale in order to insure their arrival by Christmas are: North Atlantic states, December 8; South Atlantic states, December 12; Central states, east of Mississippi river, December 12; middle west and Rocky mountain states, December 15; Northern California, December 19; Southern California, December 20. This schedule of "deadlines" was given out today by George Hallett, assistant postmaster. In the event that packages are mailed to any point later than the date indicated shows, they should by all means be sent special delivery, he adds.

Mr. Hallett stressed a number of postoffice regulations regarding Christmas mail. Packages over four ounces in weight must not be left at mail boxes to be picked up by carriers of the collection trucks.

Mistakes made in the amount of postage necessary results in nine out of every ten packages being returned to the sender. The more efficient service obtainable at the four branch postoffices should be a big item in inducing the public to patronize them instead of bringing packages to the main office, Mr. Hallett said. These branches are located at the Gateway market, San Fernando road and Brand boulevard; Casa Verdugo, Dry Goods store, 1129 North Central avenue; Webb's Dry Goods store, 139 North Brand boulevard; and Roberts & Echols Drug store, Broadway and Brand boulevard. Extra clerks have been placed on duty at each branch office to care for parcels post shipments.

Mr. Hallett also called attention to the regulations for wrapping and packing. All articles which are easily broken or crushed must be plainly marked "Fragile." Christmas stamps and stickers must not be placed on the address side of mail matter.

The assistant postmaster urged Glendaleans to mail early, even though they do not wish their packages to arrive until Christmas time. He said in this event, notations such as "please do not open until Christmas" may be written on the outside of the package, but that holding off mailing generally results in delay, being made around January 1 instead of Christmas day.

Quick! Send Some More, Lot More, Limericks! Real Money To Be Paid for Prize Ones!

By LIMERICK EDITOR
Of The Evening News Staff
If you are in doubt as to the popularity of the limerick contests being conducted by The Glendale Evening News, just glance into the south window of this newspaper office, 139 South Brand, and there you will see the evidence—or some of it, anyway. The "editorial" in the case is a display of limericks received by the Limerick Editor. There are enough to fill a dozen quart hats, he-mansized.

In the contest just closed, the Limerick Editor received six contributions from L. O. Edmunds, 311 Ivy. Mr. Edmunds admits that he's a collector of limericks. Many people have that habit, it seems. He wrote:
"For pointing a moral and adorning a tale, this is a winner."

There was a young woman named
Ide
Who was once at a funeral epied.
When asked who was dead,
She giggled and said:
"I dunno, I just came for the ride."

Mr. Edmunds, collector, among the limericks forwarded to the contest editor, included this jewel:
There was a sopranner named An-ner
Who went up the stairs in such manner
That the tenor below
Said, "Ah, ah" and "Oh, oh,"
"I have heard and now I see your hose-Anner."

Musical, don't you think? Ah, yes! Perfect harmony.
T. R. Crosswell, 1336 Valley View, picks on the Glendale Horseshoe club for his text. The Horseshoe club members also play chess, checkers and croquet. So Mr. Crosswell hangs this one on the bunch that congregates at West Broadway and Central:
At Glendale's famed club, the Horseshoe,
Where gather strange "nuts" not a few,
As they dabble at chess,
It's mostly all guess.
Wait the wives: "Poor fellows!
It's true."

Isn't that a ringer? Yep, right over the peg. Mr. Crosswell also contributes this to the gaiety of Glendale:
He drove where the traffic was thick,
His mind on a blamed old limerick.

The cop called his number,
Then put him to slumber.
Judge Lowe made him awfully sick.
They will pick on Judge Lowe, yes, what? However, Christmas is coming and, perhaps, Judge Lowe will play Santa Claus for a lotta boys and girls nabbed by the cops for violation of traffic rules. Willie? Yes, he will!
Speaking of booze, W. T. Nichols, 314 West Doran slips over this one for the benefit of prohibition:
"Oh, run for the doctor," cried
Dan;
"And bring him as quick as you can."
"As I'm horribly ill
"Since I swallowed that gill
"Of booze of that bootlegger man."

Mr. Nichols has more in his systole. He gets rid of this one, too:
A fair maid of Glendale named
Kate,
Permitted her beau to stay late.
Then her dad interfered
With the girl he had reared,
By posting a cop at the gate.
Ed L. Stockbridge, 1418 Rock-glen, takes his pen in hand to dash off the following:
There was a he-man named Mc-Graw,
Who liked all his meat red and raw.
After eating a goat,
He cut his own throat
While picking his teeth with a saw.
Omgosh! Here's a good place for the Limerick Editor to stop for today.
Just a reminder that the fourth contest is under way, that $3 will be paid for best limerick submitted on or before midnight, Friday, December 5, that $2 goes to the contributor of the second best and $1 for the third best. None will be returned. All must be addressed to Limerick Editor of The Glendale Evening News. Winners, and others, will be published.
All set? Let 'er go!

EXTENSION TO BOULEVARD PLANNED

Planning Commission Takes Steps to Lengthen
Glenoaks Highway

Steps were outlined last night by the City Planning commission for the extension of Glenoaks boulevard east to Pasadena, 'Monrovia and Glendora, and west to San Fernando, connecting with the state highway to Newhall, Saugus and points north.

A resolution was adopted instructing P. J. Hayselden, secretary, to address a letter to Hugh C. Pomeroy, secretary of the Regional Planning commission, calling attention to the fact that Glenoaks boulevard is now laid out through the cities of Glendale and Burbank, and urging co-operation to extend this boulevard as outlined. The meeting was held at the City Hall, Chairman T. W. Watson presiding.

Glenoaks Extension
Last week Mr. Watson was in conference with members of the Pasadena Improvement association and others interested in the extension of Glenoaks boulevard, and he brought to the City Planning commission meeting a detailed report of the plans for the eastward prolongation of the boulevard. J. H. Randall, a member of the local commission and president of the Northwest Improvement association, outlined steps that are under way for the westward extension.
The commission heard Lon J. Haddock of the Haddock-Nibley Co. outline his plans for developing a small commercial district at Canada boulevard and Verdugo road, in the Rossmore tract, and it was voted to approve the amended application for a commercial district at that intersection.

Several subdivision maps were approved.

Missionary Society Will Present Play

Central Christian church women and their friends attending the missionary society meeting tomorrow afternoon at the church are to enjoy a program of much interest, featured by a one act play "Why?" written by Mrs. Harry Greenwalt, well known Glendale resident and active club woman. The play is both humorous and of a serious trend. Mesdames Laura Lewis and George P. Bohannon are in charge of this division of missionary activity of the church.

In addition to the play, Miss Lulu Garton, a delegate to the missionary convention in Cleveland, will report on that gathering. Miss Margaret Frazee, who was a delegate to the international Sunday school convention at Glasgow, Scotland, will also speak. Vocal numbers will be given by Mrs. Parkhurst, accompanied by Mrs. Melvin Musser.

Judge Lowe Made Party To Restraining Action

Judge Frank H. Lowe of the Glendale police court has been ordered to appear before the Los Angeles superior court as defendant in an action brought by Edgar F. Hughes, a Los Angeles attorney. The order is signed by John M. York, presiding judge, and is accompanied by a writ of prohibition, whereby Mr. Hughes seeks to check the misdemeanor proceedings now under way against him in the Glendale police court, on a charge of exceeding the speed limit on Brand boulevard on November 16. The order issued by Judge York makes it necessary for Judge Lowe to appear in person in Department 25 of the superior court at 10 o'clock the morning of December 10.

Mr. Hughes is represented by Ben S. Berry, a Los Angeles attorney. Leslie R. Tarr, city prosecutor of Glendale, will represent Judge Lowe. Mr. Tarr will demur to the charge, he says, on the grounds that the case against Mr. Hughes in the Glendale police court may be appealed to a higher court in the event it is decided against him.

A GOOD DOCTOR—

Will admit that nature does most of the work.
Can't work miracles without some co-operation.
Can't protect us from the effects of our own neglect.
Often works quick cures for slow pay.
Sees most of us in our worst moments.
Would often disillusion us if he said it in plain English.
Knows that every man's case is peculiar.

THE AGRICULTURAL COMMISSION

The American people have grown rather skeptical about any good coming out of committees appointed to investigate this and that, but it does seem that the commission appointed by President Coolidge to investigate agricultural conditions and recommend legislation for the benefit of the farmer, may be able to solve the problem of giving agriculture its rightful status in the economic world once more, since the men who make up the commission are doers, not those who are accustomed to be figure-heads. William Allen White says the farmer is in a bad way, but most of the politicians who are trying to help him are trying to help themselves first. He goes on to tell what is wrong with agriculture in America:

"One of the fundamental things wrong with agriculture in America is that the American farmer is competing with the European peasant and the Asiatic coolie. The peasant and the coolie live on a few cents a day, have small needs, are not political integers, and are static in their condition. The American farmer is a business man, who is capitalist, laborer and speculator all in one. The American farmer has a broad life and he has many needs—schools, churches, amusements, transportation for travel, books and reading. The American farmer is part of our government. He must be educated, he must have time for reflection and association with his fellows, or, as a voter, he is a loss to his government. More than all that, the American farmer is moving up. He demands that his status be better than his father's and that his sons' and daughters' lives shall be broader and better than his. The farmer cannot compete with peasants and coolies, unless he has some kind of a subsidy, some improved business method, some better way of meeting the competition of the coolie and the peasant than has yet been devised. But, the farmer must work out his salvation, decide what he needs, and go after it. He must quit buying political nostrums that politicians peddle from farm to farm. Intelligent organization is the first step. After that—it will not be easy to say what is ahead."

The agricultural commission has a real problem. Let us hope, for the sake of the entire country, that they may come to some solution of it, that they may be able to stabilize the cattle industry, improve farm financing facilities, and work out beneficial results in co-operative marketing, the tariff and transportation, as they relate to farm products, water power development, timber conservation and utilization of waste land and many other phases of agriculture that affect the entire country.

TO HIM WHO HATH

Charles Chaplin went to Mexico last week and married his leading lady, Lita Grey, and they returned at once to Chaplin's new home in Hollywood. All honor to the reporters and editors who were able to take this simple statement and make column after column of first page material out of it for five or six successive days. Such a feat requires real ability. Charlie is very much opposed to any publicity. Publicity didn't help him one bit in climbing to the very highest rung of the ladder as a comedian and an artist. But, the more strenuous his opposition, the longer the stories about him and his lovely bride. Who can say that Charlie doesn't know the value of advertising as well as the way to get it free of cost? And some poor, struggling artist who really needs a little publicity, couldn't get it without paying so much a line, and he couldn't get on the first page at any price. To him who hath shall be given.

THE MASONS AND PROHIBITION

A West Virginia federal judge, a Mason of high rank, has pointed out to the Grand Lodge of Masons of his state that it is violating its traditions of obedience to law by refusing to bar from membership persons obtaining liquor in violation of law. He says, "All these fraternal bodies base their organizations on obedience to the laws of God and man, and if any of them hasn't the courage and common decency to uphold the duly constituted authorities in enforcing the laws of the country it should have no place among the people of the country." Masonry is said to extend back into the distant ages before the days of King Solomon, and it is claimed that our present courts and judges owe their high status to that freedom of conscience and defense of the right which Masonry has always advocated. And so we continue to look to this body to be leaders and examples in upholding the law and maintaining the traditions of the order.

CHILDREN AND CATTLE

"Why do we hear so much about state's rights when the regulation of child labor is under consideration and nothing whatever about it when the welfare of cattle is involved?" asks the Santa Barbara Morning Press. Because there are many who are profiting from the labor of children and because we were losing as a result of the foot and mouth disease. Because government regulation of the cattle epidemic was to the interest of everyone and because government regulation of child labor will not be to the interest of those who employ children.

All of the states have departments of agriculture and laws that enable them to establish quarantines, but when, as in the case of California, the federal authorities stepped in and took charge, no one questioned their rights. And now the federal department of agriculture announces that the disease has been completely suppressed. When the interest of the country as a whole is at stake the federal government should have authority to act.

BUSINESS PRINCIPLES

There should be a lesson both for employers and employees in the present controversy between the miners and the locomotive engineers. Both represent organized labor. Members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers acquired coal mines in West Virginia and operate them as a separate organization. This company, owned by union men, has had trouble with the miners and refused to pay them the union scale. It is operating its mines precisely as capitalists operate their business. In answer to charges that it is unfair, and is violating the ethics of organized labor, it replies that the mining enterprise is a business proposition, and must be operated along business lines.

This incident should show that fundamental economic principles cannot be ignored in business no matter who is running the business.

ANOTHER LITTLE MOSES IN THE JOHN BULL RUSHES!

The Advantages of Being a Fool

By DR. FRANK CRANE

There are some advantages in being a fool. In the first place, the fool gets more attention than the wise man. He is flattered more, more attention is paid to his opinion and more effort is made to conciliate him than if he is simply a normal human being.

If you crave attention, and all such things, the worst way to get them is to be known for your common sense and adaptability. Then no one will take any trouble with you. If they know where to find you, what's the use of looking after you? The cry-baby always gets more attention than the good child, the hally horse more than the animal that simply does its stunt, the crooked stick than the straight one. So, if you are out for notoriety, one of the simplest and easiest methods is being a fool.

To be sure, in your moments of reflection, if you have any, you will recognize that all this bother over you has been simply because people dislike you. It is an acknowledgment of your weakness, but that is better than having no bother made over you at all.

Why should sensible women, for instance, pay so much attention to their clothes and the hats when all they have to do is to dress in some bizarre fashion and act the fool and they will receive as much notice as if they had dressed most expensively?

We are amazed at the good nature which the murderer exhibits on the stand, but his overweening desire to attract attention has been secured by his crime, attention which he would not otherwise have gained by a whole life of behaving himself.

In fact, observing the law of acting decently is, as a rule, a poor method of notoriety. Those who enjoy being pointed out in the community will find a much shorter and simpler method by simply acting like a fool.

In conclusion it may be said that it is only wise people who will pay attention to these remarks, whereas they will be unnoticed by the fools, who will not object to them.

The Best of Advice

By CLARK KINNARD

THE CEASELESS SEARCH

"Happily we all shoot at the moon with ineffectual arrows." The sentiment is Robert Louis Stevenson's. He believed that when we live happily, we live in an ascending scale, with one thing leading to another in an endless series.

"There is always a new horizon for onward-looking men, and, although, we dwell on a small planet, immersed in petty business and not enduring beyond a brief period of years, we are so constituted that our hopes are inaccessible, like stars, and the term of hoping is prolonged until the term of life."

There is no end to gathering wealth, or to making books or experiments, or to travel; nothing is conclusive. Problem gives rise to problem. We may study all our lives, and yet know but little of what there is to know. And if we discover a continent, or cross a chain of mountains, it is only to find another ocean or another plain on the further side.

There is only one wish realizable on the earth; only one thing that can be perfectly attained: Death.

"And," comments Stevenson, "from a variety of circumstances, we have no one to tell us whether it be worth attaining."

A strange picture we make on our way to our chairs, grudging ourselves the time for rest. "It is true that we shall never reach the goal," observes Stevenson. "It is even more so probable that there is no such place; and if we lived for centuries and were endowed with the powers of a god, we should find ourselves not much nearer what we wanted at the end."

"O toiling hands of mortals! O unweary feet, traveling ye know not whither! Soon, soon, it seems to you, you must come on some conspicuous hilltop, and but a little way further, against the setting sun, descry the spires of El Dorado. Little do ye know your own blessedness; for to travel hopefully is a better thing than to arrive."

YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE ANSWERED

Who's Who

GEN. LAWRENCE D. TYSON
An enviable war record forms part of the life history of Gen. Lawrence D. Tyson, new senator-elect from Tennessee.

He was graduated from the United States Military Academy in 1883 and served in the Regular Army until April 15, 1896, when he resigned. During the Spanish-American War, Tyson served as Colonel of the 6th United States Volunteer Infantry in Porto Rico.

While serving as quartermaster general of Tennessee with the rank of brigadier general, Gen. Tyson was called into the federal service August 5, 1917, and assigned to the 5th Infantry Brigade, 30th Division.

Gen. Tyson was discharged from the service on demobilization April 16, 1919. He arrived overseas May 24, 1918, and participated in the Somme and Ypres-Lys offensive, returning to this country March 15, 1919.

Used Kellogg's Bran 2 months— constipation gone after suffering 3 years

Three years of suffering with constipation. What happiness was his when Kellogg's Bran, cooked and eaten, restored his health. But read his letter.

"Dear Sirs: This is what I think of your krumbed bran. I would not be without it for anything in the world. For three years I used all kinds of medicines for constipation, and only got temporary relief. I was advised by a doctor to use Kellogg's Bran, and since I began using it I do not have to take pills or anything else. I have used it two months, and my constipation has left me. I feel better now than I have for three years."

(The original of this letter is on file at the Kellogg Company, Battle Creek, Mich.)

Kellogg's Bran brings results because it is ALL bran. You can't fight constipation with halfway measure—with bran which are only part bran. It takes ALL bran to be 100 per cent effective.

Because Kellogg's Bran is ALL bran it sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestine. It acts naturally—just as nature acts. It stimulates the intestine and makes it function regularly. It is guaranteed to bring results, or your grocer will refund your money.

Kellogg's Bran has a delicious nut-like flavor. Quite different from ordinary, unpalatable bran. You will like it as a cereal, sprinkled on hot cereals, cooked with hot cereals, or in the recipes given on every package.

Eat two tablespoonsful of Kellogg's Bran every day—in chronic cases, with every meal. Made in Battle Creek, Sold by all grocers.

WORLEY ELECTED TO HEAD MASONS

Local Commandery Names
Officers for 1925;
Reports Read

Officers for 1925 were elected by Glendale Commandery No. 53, Knights Templar, at the annual meeting last night at the Masonic temple. W. W. Worley was elected eminent commander; J. Hartley Taylor, generalissimo; S. S. Gilhuly, captain general; William McMillan, senior warden; Thomas Wood, junior warden; Frank H. Vesper and Charles C. Rittenhouse, re-elected treasurer and recorder, respectively. These officers will meet with the past commanders at a special session Saturday night and name appointive officers of the commandery.

Treasurer Vesper rendered his financial report for the year which showed the finances of the commandery to be in excellent condition. Other reports showed the membership to be steadily increasing and affairs, generally, in a healthy state. Retiring commander, Robert M. Grumbling, presided at the meeting. Six new members were admitted to the lodge last night and the applications of six others for membership were received.

It was shown in one report by Commander Grumbling that there are 11 different Masonic organizations meeting at the Glendale Masonic temple at present beside the many Sunday rehearsals which are held there. This is in addition to the four luncheon clubs which meet at the temple.

Preceding the business meeting last night, the Knights Templar and their wives gathered at dinner. A feature of the meeting was the one hundred per cent attendance of past commanders.

"Youthful" Gland Patient, Aged 72, Arrives from England

Making the statement that capsules of a preparation made from the glands of animals which had been administered to him in a London hospital had overcome a serious illness with which he was afflicted and "renewed his youth," a London broker was jubilant upon his arrival in this country. This is just another instance of the wonders that are today being worked through glandular treatment.

PATENT CONCRETE WALL TAKES TEST

Thermosoid Construction Co.
Product Supports Load
Of 40,000 Pounds

Weighted down with a load of 40,000 pounds, a six-inch section of patent concrete wall, manufactured by the Thermosoid Construction Co., San Fernando road and Colorado boulevard, passed successfully all engineering tests today. The test was made by G. L. Cheney of the Smith-Emery testing laboratory, Los Angeles, and witnessed by officials of the Thermosoid Co., concrete engineers, newspapermen and builders.

The wall section was six and one-half inches thick, twenty-eight inches long and nine feet high. According to Edward F. Needham, president of the company, and inventor of the concrete slabs, it would have taken a load of 200,000 or more pounds to have caused a failure of the wall.

Nationally Known
Mr. Needham is a nationally known concrete man, and was for some years an engineer for the government, in charge of some of the largest work ever contracted for, one contract totaling $150,000,000. A company manufacturing this concrete wall is now in operation in Houston, Tex., and is headed by Mr. Needham. The main office of the local concern is at 1217 Detweiler building, Los Angeles.

The factory at San Fernando road and Colorado boulevard has just opened and is equipped to turn out three complete houses per week. The Thermosoid Co. takes the contract and builds a dwelling complete at a cost, Mr. Needham says, equal or less than frame and stucco. A public demonstration of the concrete slabs will be held the latter part of this week.

CHAPTER XXXIV

"Not until after dinner," Grant assured her. "I shall set the course a little differently before then. As soon as it is necessary to get steam up, I shall be sent for down to the engine room."

"Really, life might have been very amusing," she sighed, "if only—"

"It will be amusing enough presently," he interrupted. "I can see that your husband is already in rather an uncertain mood—ready to make trouble at the slightest provocation."

"Our friend the Baron, I should think, will remain perfectly philosophical, especially if he has already touched the fifty thousand pounds," Gertrude declared. "He's the most colorless person I have ever met."

Cornelius Blunn came out of the smoking room and walked towards them. His expression was inclined to be thoughtful. He stood for a moment watching their course. Then he looked at the sun.

"You'll have a long beat back," he remarked to Grant.

"I shall steam back," the latter told him. "We're sailing now—for one thing, because it's so much pleasanter, and the women enjoy it so."

"I'm not a nautical man," Blunn confessed, "but I presume it would be impossible to get back under canvas."

"With this wind it would take us at least twenty-four hours," Grant acknowledged. "I don't think we should make it then. Nowadays every yacht of any size has auxiliary power of a sort."

"We would wish to avoid even the appearance of interfering with your arrangements," Blunn said, "but you will not forget that our friend, Baron Punderstrom, is a delegate; that means he must leave for Nice at nine o'clock tomorrow morning."

"He'll be back before midnight," Grant remarked.

"It is rather a pity Lord Yeovil was not able to join us. We should have felt quite safe with him here."

"He and Lymane are hard at it, getting things ready for tomorrow," Grant explained. "It isn't very often he misses a day on the sea. What about a rubber of bridge before dinner? I'll order a table."

He strolled away. Blunn turned towards Gertrude. He looked at her for a moment thoughtfully.

"Has anything about this cruise struck you as being in any way peculiar?" he asked.

"Why, no," she replied. "It all seems very pleasant. Mr. Slattery is a wonderful host."

"Marvelous!" he assented. "Still, I don't quite see why he's standing such a long way out or why he was so particularly anxious to have Punderstrom as a guest. Punderstrom is not an attractive man."

"As a matter of fact, it was I who suggested him," she admitted. "And having once mentioned his name, I suppose Mr. Slattery was trying to be civil."

"It was you who suggested him," Blunn repeated thoughtfully. "Ah, well, we shall see. I expect I'm being very foolish. We shall soon know."

"I don't know about being foolish but you're very mysterious," Gertrude said, with slightly up-lifted eyebrows.

"It is because I am on the scent of a mystery," he replied. "A crude mystery, a clumsy affair, without a doubt—but still a mystery. We shall see."

"It was a significant fact to Cornelius Blunn that cocktails were introduced before the accustomed time and pressed upon every one to the limits of hospitality."

Grant, himself, who was as a rule, exceedingly moderate, set an example by drinking one every time they came round, and when they descended into the saloon for dinner, there were numerous of champagne upon the table.

"When we get on deck after dinner," he announced, "we shall be headed for the land and under steam."

"At what time do you propose to get rid of us?" Gertrude asked.

"In time for a final flutter at the Casino, if you're keen about it," he assured her.

The service of dinner proceeded. The wine circulated, conversation, which had languished at first, soon became gay, even uproarious. Cornelius Blunn alone seemed to be scarcely in his usual spirits. He looked often out of the porthole; more than once he glanced at the clock.

"What about the course, now?" he asked his host once.

"We are around by this time," Grant answered. "You'll hear the engines directly."

He strolled away. Blunn turned towards Gertrude. He looked at her for a moment thoughtfully.

"He and Lymane are hard at it, getting things ready for tomorrow," Grant explained. "It isn't very often he misses a day on the sea. What about a rubber of bridge before dinner? I'll order a table."

THE GATEWAY

After devoting eight years of his life to the screen, Hobart Henley, director of "Sinners in Silk," the Metro-Goldwyn picture, which is coming to the Gateway theatre on Wednesday, has to his credit the title of extra player, featured player, star, scenario writer and director.

Born in Louisville, Kentucky, Mr. Henley attended the University of Cincinnati. He then became an actor on the speaking stage, where he remained for five years. His screen debut followed as a member of the Biograph Co. But he was only assigned bits in pictures. From Biograph, he went to Universal, for whom he appeared in support of Mary Pickford, Wallace Reid, Marshall Neilan and other favorites.

Mr. Henley's ability was soon recognized and he was elevated to stardom. But Mr. Henley did not stay there. He wrote stories in his spare time, and many of them were accepted for production. Universal gave him the opportunity to direct one of his own stories, in which he also played. On the strength of this production, he determined to become a director, and has maintained that position to this day.

"Sinners in Silk," is a Hobart Henley production presented by Louis B. Mayer. Carey Wilson adapted it to the screen from Benjamin Glazer's story. John Arnold was the cameraman. The usual Wednesday program of select vaudeville will be the added attraction.

THE GLENDALE

"The Siren of Seville," with Priscilla Dean, concludes today at the Glendale theatre. Wednesday and Thursday the picture is "Racing for Life."

pered in Grant's ear. He laid down his table napkin. "May I be excused for a minute?" he begged. "A matter of etiquette. My engineer always has to consult me. A perfect bluff, of course."

He was gone about ten minutes. When he came back they all looked at him a little curiously. It was Gertrude who became spokeswoman.

"Is anything wrong, Grant?" she asked. "We're not going to be shipwrecked or anything, are we?"

"We are around by this time," Grant answered. "You'll hear the engines directly."

He strolled away. Blunn turned towards Gertrude. He looked at her for a moment thoughtfully.

PITTS PLAYERS

"The Crimson Nemesis," a creeping, gripping mystery melodrama, is now showing nightly at the tent theatre of Pitts Players, San Fernando boulevard at Cedar street, Burbank. An orchestra of eight girls playing old fashioned melodies adds an element of charm to the program. The curtain rises at 8:15 o'clock, though those who prefer to come early and select their seats may do so, the management states.

The cast comprises a talented group of artists who have already won the hearts of Glendale and Burbank theatre-goers with their excellent production of "The Fortune Hunter." Seeing Pitts Players is becoming a popular nightly pastime of hundreds of local people. The management assures all patrons that ample parking space for cars has been provided and that the tent has many special features for the comfort of those who desire to see a play under the most advantageous circumstances.

DOBINSON PLAYERS

Wednesday at the Tuesday afternoon clubhouse for its second week in Glendale, announces Mrs. Florence Dobinson of the Dobinson Players. Gertrude Kellar will have the leading role, portraying a selfish mother who prides herself on her great love for her only daughter, yet who never fails to think first of her own needs. The curtain rises at 8:15 o'clock.

Joseph McManus, an actor of prominence, both here and in the east, portrays the role of Dr. Jansen, whose candid diagnosis of wealthy neurotics is severe, is a character of perfect interpretation, and his scenes with Eve Orrin hold the audience spellbound. Mary Isabelle Alpaugh as Eve Orrin does the finest dramatic work of her career.

"Mamma's Affair" is from the pen of Rachel Barton Butler, once a student in Professor Baker's celebrated "English 47" class at Harvard university. The play was selected from among fifty as the most worthy to receive the prize of $500 offered by Oliver Morosco for the best play of the year.

THE T. D. & L.

Gloria Swanson in "Wages of Virtue" concludes today at the T. D. & L. theatre. Harold Lloyd in "Hot Water" opens Wednesday for a four-day run.

Confirmation of women priests was advocated at a church congress in London recently.

Uncle Wiggly

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGLY'S RUBBER BOOT

Uncle Wiggly hopped through his hollow stump bungalow, singing and whistling.

"Where are my rubber boots, Nurse Jane?" he asked his muskrat lady housekeeper with a low and polite bow of his pink nose.

"Are you going out again?" asked Nurse Jane, for the bunny had only just come in, having been out to seek an adventure which he didn't find.

"No, I'm not going out right away," he answered. "I just want to clean my rubber boots and set them out in the sun to dry. When they are dry I'll bring them in the house and tomorrow I will wear them. For I think the snow will be very deep by tomorrow."

"Perhaps, and maybe not," said Nurse Jane. "But your boots are under the piano, if you must know, and it was a funny place to leave them, if you ask me."

"Very well, then," laughed the bunny. "I'll not ask you. But I'll clean my rubber boots." Which he did, setting them out in the late afternoon sun to dry on the back steps.

Now, while the rabbit gentleman's boots were drying in the sun along came the bad little Bob Cat and his mother Bob Cat. The tongue of the bad little Bob Cat was still smarting where Uncle Wiggly had put ginger on the day before. For the bad little Bob Cat had stuck his tongue out at the rabbit gentleman.

"Oh, ma! I know how we can play a trick on Uncle Wiggly and nibble his ears!" whispered the bad little Bob Cat.

"How?" asked the bad big Bob Cat.

"I'll hide in one of his rubber boots," said the little chap. "I can scrouch away down in it and not even my tail will show, because my tail is so little. I'll hide in the boot. You go away and leave me. When Uncle Wiggly takes his boots in for the night he'll take me inside in one of them, but he won't know it. In the middle of the night I'll crawl out, I'll unlock the bungalow door, you can slip in and we'll nibble his ears!"

"It's a good trick! Do it!" whispered the bad big Bob Cat. So the bad little Bob Cat crawled in the rubber boot and curled up.

Now, just before it was time for Uncle Wiggly to take his boots in for the night, along came Uncle Butter, the goat, with his umbrella. Uncle Butter carried an umbrella, for he didn't like to get snowed on or rained on.

"I'll stop in and see Uncle Wiggly for a minute," thought Uncle Butter. And as the goat was going up the steps he saw the rubber boots outside. "Ah, ha!" he chuckled. "Ah, ha!"

busted Uncle Butter, who couldn't see very well that day, "Uncle Wiggly has put two umbrella stands out here. He must want me to leave my umbrella in one of them. I'll do it!"

Then, thinking the rubber boots were stands, the goat jabbed his umbrella down in the very rubber boot where the bad little Bob Cat was hiding. Right into the Bob Cat's ribs the goat jammed the umbrella.

"Wow! Wee! Squeee! Squawk-um!" howled the bad little Bob Cat, and out of the rubber boot he scrambled, running away and taking his silly little tail after him.

"Bless my pink nose! What happened?" asked Uncle Wiggly.

coming to the door as he heard the screeching.

"A Bob Cat was hiding in your umbrella stand," said Uncle Butter.

"Ha! Ha! Those aren't umbrella stands—they're my rubber boots!" laughed the bunny. "But it's a good thing you put your umbrella in one." And Nurse Jane thought so, too. So if the postage stamp doesn't try to go swimming in the tooth paste with the bath room sponge, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly and Jack's hole.

Backache Is a Warning!

Glendale Folks Are Learning How to Heed It.

Are you miserable with an aching back? Do you get up lame and stiff? Drag through the day feeling tired, weak and depressed? Then you should help your kidneys. Backache is often the first sign of failing kidneys. Urinary troubles quickly follow. Neglected, there's danger of gravel, dropsy or fatal Bright's disease. Don't wait for serious kidney sickness! Use Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys, before it is too late. This Glendale resident tells an experience:

J. W. Begg, pattern maker, 123 Eulalia St., says: "My back was weak and there was a continual soreness through the small of it. I had a dull, dragging pain across my kidneys and the kidney secretions were unnatural in color and burned in passage. However, Doan's Pills helped me from the start and one box relieved me of the trouble."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mr. Begg had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advertisement.

"NEIGHBORLY DISEASES"—Part 2

SCARLET FEVER
In yesterday's paper on scarlet fever, we refuted the idea that children have to have the infectious diseases of childhood and the sooner they have them, the better; and that infections from mild cases would also be mild. I explained to you that scarlet fever is a definite infectious disease that recent research work has shown is due to the germ of the family of Streptococcus Hemolyticus.

In two previous articles on scarlet fever, I told you that a test known as the Dick test has been perfected to find out which children are susceptible to scarlet fever, and that there is a possibility of a serum which will be known as the Dechez serum to be used as a curative measure to combat the disease. I further explained that not only is the disease itself to be dreaded, but that there might be serious complications sometimes involving the ears, nose, glands, joints, heart, kidneys, etcetera. Vaughn states that 75 per cent of the severe cases of scarlet fever are followed by suppurating ears. (It is for this reason that I thought I had better give you these papers on scarlet fever this week before I continued my series on ear troubles. I want to keep our column doing preventive work as much as possible.)

Scarlet fever is a preventable disease. The infection is present in the discharges from the nose, throat, suppurating ears or glands, etcetera, and is transferred to another person either directly or indirectly.

When a scarlet fever patient coughs or sneezes, the tiny droplets of the infected material may be breathed in directly by a person standing near enough, or the discharge from suppurating glands or ears may fall directly upon a wound, however slight, such as a scratch, on the skin of one who is in contact with the patient. This is an example of the spread of the disease by direct contact.

Any articles such as bedding, bed clothes, dishes, food, pencils, books, paper, flies, domestic pets, etcetera, which come in contact with the discharges from the patient, may be contaminated. Such things, as I explained yesterday, are known as fomites. Fomites handled by a susceptible person may cause him to contract the disease or to give the disease to others. This is an example of the indirect contact.

Mrs. A. K.: "How can I remove perfume stains from white ivory?"
Answer: I am sorry that I cannot tell you of any sure method of removing the perfume stains from your white ivory articles. You see I do not know the chemical content of the perfume. Most perfumes have a good deal of alcohol in them. But alcohol, by itself, is often used to bleach ivory. The best thing I can do to give you directions for whitening ivory in general, and you could take the risk of experimenting with these methods yourself.

To bleach ivory which is only slightly discolored: Brush it over with a thick paste made by combining turpentine and denatured or grain alcohol and use a very soft bristled brush to apply. Let this remain on the ivory till all the alcohol has evaporated then brush off the whitening.

A stronger bleaching method for ivory is the following: Place the yellowed ivory article on strips of zinc in the bottom of a glass vessel; cover them with spirits of turpentine and expose them to the sun for several days. Bride: "My husband's father was an artist in leisure hours, and we have several of his oil paintings which we prize very highly. They may not be valuable but they mean a great deal to us

ANSWERED LETTERS

X. Y. Z.—To remove shine from the nose or other parts of the complexion, wipe off the oily secretion with a small piece of chamois and apply witch hazel as a mild astringent.

H. E. W.—Frequent brushing and smoothing of your hair will train it to lie flat to the scalp.

Mrs. W. O., Anxious Betty—Extract the coarse hairs by using a blunt end tweezers. Bleach the fine hair with peroxide.

Edna J. C.—At 15 years of age with a height of five feet, five inches, your weight is normal at 115 pounds.

Constant Reader—The following exercises will either develop flabby muscles or reduce when there is too much fatty tissue: Place hands on hips and bring elbows forward as far as possible, hold, and tense all the muscles of the chest. Repeat the exercise by bending the arms to the back as far as possible and holding and tensing the chest muscles.

Babe—If you add an equal amount of ammonia to your peroxide, I do not think you will have any trouble bleaching. Such dark hair or your hair. Peroxide must be fresh or it will not bleach hair to any extent.

Mary E. H.—It is possible that the return of the pimple is due to the fact that the first pimple infected the skin. Try an antiseptic salve on it until it heals; if it should return after that consult the doctor about your condition.

Mabel—Try henna in your shampoo to make your bright red hair a darker shade.

A. D. H.—It will require a specialist to remove the lumps of wax that you had injected under the skin.

A. E. G.—Apply hot wet compresses on the skin where the blackheads are the worst, after which massage plenty of cleansing cream into face and throat to dissolve the soil in the pores. Use warm water and a mild soap for washing off all the soiled cream, then close the pores with very cold water or by an ice rub. A daily full warm bath will help in relieving the pores of the complexion so that they gradually refine and lose the tendency to blackheads.

TOMORROW—Winter Time Foot Treatments
All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, so if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

NEW JERSEY GIRL OWN ENVOY

Sends Letter Direct To Head Of Italian Government; Gets Quick Action

By ROBERT T. SMALL
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Some of the most important law or musty precedent it is written that no individual citizen of the United States shall treat with a foreign government, shall make claims or demand redress for wrongs real or imagined. All such matters are reserved for diplomatic treatment through the regular channels which start in Washington and reach out to all quarters of the globe. This was the wish of the forefathers of the republic.

All of which, however, has meant nothing at all in the life of a Jersey girl who decided recently to cut all red tape and become her own envoy extraordinary.

The amateur diplomacy has been vastly successful. Nothing has been filed away in the archives of Rome or Washington to gather dust and await further representations until some time in the dim and distant future. There has been direct action, stern and uncompromising and better relations with Italy have been engendered in at least one American community.

New Jersey Girl
The feminine direct actionist is Miss Margaret L. Johnstone, an artist of Glendale, N. J.

The friends who have heard her story have marveled at her audacity.

It seems that last spring Miss Johnstone was a visitor in Rome. While there she was stricken with typhoid fever and spent weeks in a hospital. Through her illness she was attended by a nurse who proved exceptionally capable and kind.

The American girl wished to give her a substantial present in addition to the usual compensation, and just before leaving Rome she went to one of the more prominent jewelry stores and selected a very handsome necklace. Much pleased with her choice she started for New York, having left careful directions as to the sending of the necklace to the nurse.

Arriving home in Glendale, Miss Johnstone thought little or nothing more about the matter until one day a letter arrived from the nurse. It was couched in most casual terms. The necklace had arrived and had been a very thoughtful remembrance. The tone of the acknowledgment, however, was not in keeping with the value of the necklace. There was evidence of disappointment. Miss Johnstone smelt a rat. She promptly wrote to the nurse and asked her what sort of necklace she had received.

When the reply came the trouble was evident. The jeweler had delivered an article far inferior to the one purchased. Miss Johnstone was outraged. She wrote a burning letter to the jewelry firm. She got no reply. She

Border Closing Rules Is Working Hardship

CALEXICO, Dec. 2.—Harvey Shepherd, deputy collector of customs at this port, is the most unpopular man in the Imperial valley today. Sunday night he refused to permit Americans returning from an inaugural ball at the Governor's mansion in Mexico to cross the line at 2 a. m., although a number of Mexican Masons were passed from Calexico. The latter had obtained a special dispensation from Washington, he stated.

The 9 o'clock closing rule, designed to prevent all night carousing in Mexico, is straining relations to a breaking point, and while Shepherd is doing his duty, the public recognizes, only by attacking his iron-clad enforcement of the law will they be able to make the government at Washington see the hardship.

It is being suggested that discretionary passes be granted those who have good reason to be across the border later than 9 p. m. in order that they may return to their homes, which are only "around the corner."

Mexican Decrees at Stake In Wife's Suit

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 2.—Squaring testing the divorce decrees granted in Yucatan, Mexico, the suit of Helen Johnson against Walter W. Johnson is scheduled to come before Superior Judge Clock next Tuesday. She protests his decree in the southern republic is invalid because she never was served by a notice of the action.

cabled. Still no attention. Miss Johnstone was calling maledictions down on the entire Italian people.

Then a brilliant thought came to her. The papers had been full of Mussolini. She had read of Mussolini this and Mussolini that. Evidently Mussolini was the cat's pajamas in all things Italian. Miss Johnstone looked further into this Mussolini matter and decided to find whether he was a myth or a master. She learned his first name was Benito and she promptly sat down and in her best handwriting dashed off a letter to "Dear Benito," that she felt he would remember for most of his fascistic days.

She told him that America admired him and had always been friendly disposed toward Italy. However, she, an American citizen, had been treated like a dog, she had been cheated and robbed and she demanded that something be done. Otherwise she was sure diplomatic relations would be broken; that all tourist trade with Italy would be ended. No American tourist could feel safe in Rome. What was Mr. Mussolini to do about that?

For three weeks after the dispatch of this ultimatum nothing happened. Then came a panic-stricken letter from the jeweler. Oh, how sad and chagrined they were. What could they do? Please cable them and also please cable Mr. Mussolini. The government was threatening to revoke their license and put them all in jail. Wouldn't the beautiful American lady accept one million apologies and such a necklace would be sent to that dear nurse as no ministering angel had received before. Miss Johnstone smiled in triumphant serenity. She has not heard directly from Mussolini yet. May be she won't. It isn't at all necessary. The "Incident" is just about closed.

SUNLAND NOTES

SUNLAND, Dec. 2.—Dissatisfaction with county methods of government under the present system is causing Sunland residents and property owners to seriously contemplate incorporation and home government. Contributing factors to this attitude are the fact that the combined county road, street lighting and fire protection taxes total within a few cents of the tax limit for cities of the sixth class and the probability of still further taxation by the county; a residence district created by the county supervisors which includes Sunland as part of Tujunga; possibility of building restrictions being enacted by the county officials and other rumored legislation not entirely satisfactory to local people.

The residence zoning ordinance prohibits canneries, lumber yards, machine shops and motion picture plants, among other things, all of which are now in operation in the territory. While there is no permanent motion picture plant in Sunland there are a number of locations where properties are kept between the frequent visits of companies taking scenes in the vicinity. A large proportion of the scenes for Abraham Lincoln were taken in Sunland. The famous debate scenes were filmed in Monte Vista park, as were practically all the southern homestead scenes.

Discussion of the boundaries for a municipality apparently favored by the present school district lines which are west from Walnut drive, south of Los Angeles street.

A Thanksgiving playlet, impromptu entertainment by local people and dancing combined with refreshments were the features of the annual Chamber of Commerce entertainment.

A series of Christmas tableaux are planned by the Monte Vista Parent-Teacher association in connection with the Christmas tree to be held December 16 at the schoolhouse. Tableaux are being arranged by Miss Catherine Crews and Mrs. Garner and Mrs. Janet. A silver tea will be given December 5 at Mrs. Garner's home on Hill street, near the schoolhouse. The hours are from 2:30 to 5 and the proceeds will be used for the Christmas tree for school children.

Reveling meetings are to continue at the Baptist church. Mrs. E. H. Hermiton, evangelist, will assist Rev. W. E. Smith, pastor, in the services.

FROM EAGLE ROCK

EAGLE ROCK, Dec. 2.—The extension of Avenue 51 over the hill from York boulevard to Colorado boulevard, announced by the Los Angeles engineering department, consists of an improvement of more than ordinary importance to this section, in the opinion of local business men.

All the traffic from the thickly populated south side of the hill to the rapidly developing area on the north side at present must go around the hill to Annandale boulevard on the east to Glassell and Eagle Rock boulevards on the west; and the distance from Annandale boulevard to Eagle Rock boulevard is exactly two and two-thirds miles. The extension of Avenue 51 will not only accommodate a large amount of through traffic which must now go around, it is argued, but will also greatly shorten the distance pupils from the north side are now obliged to go in order to attend Franklin High school, Occidental college and other educational institutions of the district.

The pavement on the new artery is to be of concrete, with twenty-four foot roadbed at the narrowest point, which is four feet wider than ordinary hill highways. The extra width is required by the city because of the very considerable traffic to go over this main artery. The pavement will have Class "A" curbs on each side, it is announced, and there will be a string of ornamental electric lights with wiring conduits. Water, gas and sewer pipes will be laid before the pavement is put in.

Tomorrow the St. Barnabas guild will hold an all-day meeting at the rectory, it is announced, when final plans will be made for the bazaar to be held December 6 at the Women's Twentieth Century clubhouse.

Five years ago Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn, who were living and producing in Eagle Rock, sent out a company from Eagle Rock called the "Ruth St. Denis Concert Dancers." They are returning to California and play Los Angeles the week of January 1.

Plans are being made for the Presbyterian School of Missions, which will be held at the local church on Sunday nights, beginning January 4.

SANTA ANA, Dec. 2.—Funeral arrangements for Justice of the Peace John B. Cox are pending here awaiting the arrival of his son, R. B. Cox of Dunsmuir, who was summoned here by the death of his noted father yesterday. Judge Cox was the Orange county nemesis of speeders and made this city famed as a "Gretna Green," by performing more than 3000 marriages during his tenure of office. Besides his son he leaves a widow.

COMMENT BY GIL A. COWAN

There is nothing so good in effecting a cure as telling the doctor what's wrong. Some patients hide out patent facts.

Southern California in November had an orgy of murders that appals even the most cynical observer. To review them several pages of this newspaper would be needlessly devoted to crime.

Harry Carr in the Times this morning says there were thirteen. That did not include an equal number of suicides. It did not include accidental deaths in traffic and other mishaps.

Southern California—and the whole west coast, for that matter—might as well recognize the fact that this is the winter watering place for criminals. Police Chief R. Lee Heath is doing the right thing in ordering a vice crusade.

Every city, every county, every police officer, every sheriff should gird themselves for battle. Every suspicious character, every habitue of resorts should be taken in custody, searched for guns, dope, booze and other things elemental to crime.

Every undesirable in Southern California should be deported to the next adjoining county, and so on, until they are landed in the middle of the desert. The very idea of allowing criminals to organize here bespeaks laxity of law enforcement.

A complete organization of the system dealing with crime is paramount. As "The Lancer" Carr well puts it, the responsibility lies with the "lawyers' bloc" which dominates state legislatures and Congress.

It is high time that 999 per cent of the public who are not lawyers instituted constitutional amendments in the state and nation prohibiting active members of the bar from occupying legislative positions. There are enough judicial posts, enough executive and advisory capacities in the government for them to fill, with honor.

Lawyers are the only ones who can accept fees for espousing any legislation while sitting as members of the legislative bodies. It is rotten, it is wrong, and the public doesn't appreciate what the effects of this legal cancer is doing, not only in California, but the United States.

Without muckraking, with sincere purpose, with respect for many lawyers now serving their state and country well in legislative capacities, one cannot help seeking a solution to such a situation.

Likewise, active editors, active practicing physicians and others who would have reasons to promulgate legislation for the masses, rather than the masses, should be barred from elective office.

In turn, lawyers would be qualified to fill all judicial and executive positions; doctors and editors could also occupy places on commissions where their training makes them most adept; their advice should be heeded seriously by lawmakers.

Farmers, business men, artisans, who are not professional politicians, make admirable legislators. So do people retired from professions. More of them, please.

WHAT FILM FOLK ARE NOW DOING

Hoot Gibson Makes Winter Scenes, Lytell Has Owl, Hale Sick

By MARIAN MARSHALL
For Southland News Service.

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 2.—Hoot Gibson and his Universal western company is at Keen Kamp in the Taquitz mountains making winter scenes this week. If anyone should ask you. According to the morning's mail, it has turned cold there and little George Grantee, former Orpheum star, in Hoot's cast, is complaining of the cold.

Bert Lytell has adopted an owl as a mascot. He named it himself, he told Harry D. Wilson, his personal representative, in an interview.

Creighton Hale is moaning on his saxophone these days, being confined to his bed by an injured leg. He is a musician, boasting of several compositions. Incidentally, he now has opportunity to add to his repertoire.

The story is going the rounds about Dorothy Devore reading ancient history aloud while resting between scenes of "Who Cares?" Her press agent found her mumbling away, pet dog asleep and the clock in her dressing room stopped. Now I wonder if that's a subtle boost for "Who Cares?"

Two policemen have been assigned to Charles Chaplin's home to keep inquisitive film fans from disturbing the "adorable solitude" of the director and his new wife—Lita Gray. Incidentally, the little bride is getting acquainted with the quarter million dollar mansion which was two years in the building.

Lita Gray, noted continental actress, boasts a new nose, having undergone an operation in Hollywood last week.

Coolidge Names Morris As Roumanian Consul

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Ira Nelson Morris, former American minister in Sweden, has been named as consul-general of Roumania, at Chicago, it was learned at the state department today. F. Nano, charge d'affaires for Roumania, was informed that President Coolidge had recognized Mr. Morris in his new position.

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK, Dec. 2.—The recent vote for new Chamber of Commerce directors places the following men on the board:

Ray Sence, C. H. Branaman, Val Bonney, H. A. Cross, W. G. Schmelzel, H. R. Ling. The five directors on the board who are holding over are: Dave Bricker, A. E. Dufur, E. O. Stumbo, C. B. Wood and J. D. Nelson.

Manager J. W. Charleville of the Burbank chamber announces that Supervisor Henry W. Wright will be the principal speaker at the annual banquet, which will be held the night of December 5, at the Benmar Hills garden hall.

The Burbank choral club will give its special program at the high school auditorium, tomorrow night. In addition to the several fine new numbers that are to be sung, the club will present Margaret Barbrick Gillette as dramatic reader.

Mrs. Mary Richards and Mrs. Nettie Cummins of Wichita, Texas, are in Burbank as guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cummins of Angeleno avenue. They expect to spend the winter here. They spent Thanksgiving at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Davis, 416 Main street.

F. E. Herring of Greeley, Colorado, arrived here recently to join Mrs. Herring, who has been here visiting with Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Townsend of 521 Orange Grove avenue and with other relatives. The Herrings are now visiting in Glendale.

Mrs. Walter Decker of Orange Grove court has just returned from Covina, where she visited for several days at the home of friends, Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Warden. Mr. Decker joined her there for Thanksgiving day dinner.

The big ditcher has done its stunt on San Fernando boulevard and the pipe-layers are now at work. City Engineer J. C. Rose estimates that the boulevard should approach normal condition by the end of the week. It was to lay the city sewer pipes that the street was torn up. Merchants are now heaving large sighs of relief, as they see that their Christmas business will not seriously curtailed, which had been the fear of many.

In emphasizing the need for additional arteries through the valley, Secretary O. J. Renfrew of the San Fernando Valley association points out that the average time of a trip from the valley to the heart of the metropolitan area has increased from 40 minutes to 58 minutes within the past year and a half, because of increased traffic congestion. He predicts that the time will come when this figure will be cut in two by reason of the opening of new highways and the development of new traffic plans.

Of particular interest is a prediction made by Mr. Renfrew that Fourth, Eighth and Tenth streets through Burbank will eventually be extended so as to gather up considerable of the traffic beyond San Fernando, thus relieving the congestion on the San Fernando boulevard.

M. W. Bacon, said to have twenty-five years of baseball experience, has been engaged to train the local nine and expresses confidence that with the material at hand he can produce one of the fastest amateur teams in this part of the state. "Which," says Mr. Dooley, "remains to be seen."

Mrs. Faulkner of Colorado Springs, Colo., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Clara Lyons, of Remsen street.

TUJUNGA NOTES

TUJUNGA, Dec. 2.—Improvement of Sunset boulevard, based on sections used in improving Broadway, Glendale is to be asked in a petition to the county road department. Property owners of Tujunga's main north and south business street have held several meetings and have agreed to the paving of the street and laying of sidewalks and curbs.

Several property owners visited Glendale to inspect the walks and paving and reported in favor of the Broadway dimensions, which they recommend as a well-proportioned street. Part of the estimated cost of $10 per foot is provided for by the county fund.

Forest Supervisor Charlton and Mr. Reardon of the San Francisco office of the forestry department recently inspected the site of a proposed rock crusher in Haines canyon and listened to arguments for and against the plant by interested residents of Tujunga. Among the local men present were H. B. Heidt, president of Tujunga Chamber of Commerce; R. J. Blake, president of Tujunga Valley Realty board; Attorney Held. No decision in the matter of issuing a permit for the rock crusher was announced by the forestry officials.

Twenty-one members and three guests were present at the last business session of the J. O. C. C. class of the Tujunga Community church, held at the home of Mrs. Jenkins. Needlework and candy will be sold at a bazaar December 12 for the Christmas fund of the church. The bazaar will be held at Earl Brunner's store on Sunset boulevard.

Pans are also being made to hold a big charity dance Friday, December 12, at the Garden of the Moon. Tujunga organizations will join in the promotion of the affair and money derived will be used for relief work among the needy. Use of the dance pavilion has been offered by the management of the Garden of the Moon.

Organization of worthy relief work is being worked out by church, social and civic organizations. The object is to form a permanent committee of all these and systematize the work in a businesslike manner.

Dr. C. O. Kimball will be the principal speaker at a chicken dinner tonight given by the Men's Brotherhood of the Community church. Members of the Ladies' Aid society will prepare and serve the dinner in the church basement. There will also be a musical program.

Suit Demands Return Of Alleged Rum Ship

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2.—San Francisco's war against alleged Canadian rum smuggling was rapidly developing into a hot two-sided fight today with both prohibition authorities and indicted Canadian rum runners determined to fight it out all winter if necessary.

On the one side there is a libel action on file against William B. Hamilton, collector of the port of San Francisco, demanding the return of the seized liquor ship Quadra, with Attorneys Bert Schlesinger, S. C. Wright and Jackson Ralston acting on behalf of the Consolidated Exporters, Inc., of Vancouver, B. C., owners of the vessel.

"It is now over two months since the Quadra was seized," Attorney Schlesinger told International News Service, "and as in that time the United States government has not taken any definite action against the ship we are going to try and have her returned to her owners." "We maintain that the Quadra was illegally seized," Schlesinger continued. "In fact, we intend to establish that the ship was sixteen miles off shore at the time, and consequently far beyond the jurisdiction of the United States."

HELP KIDNEYS BY DRINKING MORE WATER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Help Neutralize Irritating Acids

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from acidity, says a noted authority. The kidneys help filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it. Bladder weakness, most folks call it because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Begin drinking lots of soft water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with soft water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which may quickly relieve your bladder irritation. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advertisement.

BUDGET FOR YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 1926 SUBMITTED

Estimated Receipts and Expenditures Given In Portion of President's Message to Congress, Delivered Today

than $60,000,000 less than they are this year. The total expenditures for 1925-26, including the payment of $1,300,000,000 toward the reduction of the public debt, will be $3,267,551,378 compared with $3,534,983,808 this year and $3,506,677,715 last year.

Nearly half of the saving to be effected will be in curbing the expenditures for the army and navy, the estimate being $29,000,000 less than the amount spent this year.

"This reduction is made," the president said, "in accordance with my belief that we can have adequate national defense with a more modest outlay of the taxpayers' money. Further study may point the way to additional reduction without weakening our national defense, but rather perfecting it. The nation is at peace with the world. We no longer have international competition in naval construction of major units. We are concerned primarily with maintaining adequate preparedness. We should have adequate preparedness in 1926 within the limits of the amounts recommended."

Budget For Coming Fiscal Year
"I transmit herewith the budget of the United States for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1926. The receipts and expenditures shown in detail in the budget are summarized in the following statement:

	Estimated 1926	Estimated 1925	Actual 1924
Total receipts	$3,641,295,092	$3,601,968,297	$4,012,044,701.65
Total expenditures	3,267,551,378	3,534,983,808	3,506,677,715.36
Excess of receipts over expenditures	373,743,714	67,884,489	505,366,986.31

"In transmitting to congress, December 3, 1923, the budget for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1925, I recommended that taxes be reduced. This recommendation was warranted by the statement of our finances in that budget. It was there estimated that under the tax laws then in force the surplus of receipts over expenditures would be $329,639,624 for the fiscal year 1924 and $395,631,634 for the fiscal year 1925. Taxes have been reduced. The confidence of the chief executive and of the congress that our revenues could be reduced has been fully justified. The fiscal year which ended June 30, 1924, was closed with a surplus of receipts over expenditures of $505,366,000. This was $175,727,000 in excess of the estimate made on December 3, 1923. Increase of $117,367,000 in receipts and decrease of $58,360,000 in expenditures produced this unexpected additional surplus of $175,727,000.

Five Months of Year as Index
"We have now completed five months of the current fiscal year, which ends June 30, 1925. This affords an index of the probable reduction in our revenue under the current tax laws. It also affords an index of the limits within which our expenditures can be kept under the continuing policy of economy. A revision of the estimate of receipts and expenditures for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1925, indicated today that the receipts will be $3,601,968,297 and the expenditures $3,534,983,808.

"This forecasts a surplus of receipts over expenditures for the current fiscal year of $67,884,489. This estimate is most significant. On the other hand, we anticipate receiving this year $400,000,000 less revenue than we had last year, due principally to the reduction in taxes.

"On the other hand, we must provide $114,000,000 for the extraordinary increase in expenditures made necessary by the World War adjusted compensation act. Yet we are confident that the year will be closed with a surplus of more than $67,000,000. Our aim should be not only to conserve this prospective surplus but to add to it.

Compares Estimates with Last Year
"For the fiscal year 1926 it is estimated that the ordinary receipts will be $3,641,295,092 and the expenditures $3,267,551,378. This indicates a surplus of $373,743,714. In addition to these receipts and expenditures it is estimated that the postal receipts will be $647,410,000 and the expenditures chargeable thereto, $637,376,005. This forecasts a surplus in postal revenue of $10,033,995, which amount is included in the estimated general surplus of $373,743,714.

"We come now to the estimates of appropriations in this budget. The chief executive is pledged to economy in the requests he makes upon congress for funds for the executive branch of the government. This pledge is kept in these estimates. They call for a total of $3,089,223,841.48, exclusive of the postal service. A fair comparison of the estimates of appropriations for 1926 with the appropriations actually made for 1925 should include the supplemental estimates for 1925, which were presented to Congress for consideration in the second deficiency bill, fiscal year 1924, and the bill of adjusted compensation of employees in certain of the field services. These two bills failed of enactment before the adjournment of Congress, June 7, 1924. In the following table a comparison is made of the estimates of appropriations for 1926 with the appropriations actually made for 1925 and the supplemental estimates submitted for that year:

Children Pay Homage To Great Emancipator

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Dec. 2.—Seeking inspiration amid the homely surroundings where Abraham Lincoln found it, 1,800 Iowa and Missouri school girls, traveling in three special trains of 41 coaches, arrived in Springfield, Friday on a Lincoln pilgrimage.

The little pilgrims traced the footsteps of the great emancipator about the Springfield streets to his church, to his home, to his law office and to the old state house, where he began his service to the nation.

Arriving finally at his tomb north of the city, they placed wreaths over his last resting place.

The children, from 39 southern Iowa and northern Missouri counties, were conducted on the tour by the Kiwanis club of Shenandoah, Iowa. Delegates of Springfield Kiwanians met each train and guided each of the three groups about the city.

TWO TITLE GAMES THIS WEEK FOR LOCAL TEAMS

Class C Plays at Huntington Park Tomorrow; Lightweights Meet Pasadena Friday in Finals; Heavyweights on Saturday

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, JR.
Of The Evening News Staff.

The class C football championship of Southern California will be decided tomorrow when Coach Eugene Wolfe's Glendale Firecrackers square off with the Huntington Park fleawrights on the latter's field at 2:30 o'clock.

The Firecrackers, who have waded through the league schedule and play-off without encountering any especially tough opponents, will be up against a one-man team tomorrow. Al Kenner is the shining star of the Huntington Park crew. He is more than a triple threat man, taking care of every department of the game save heaving passes. Kenner's brother calls the signals and throws spirals.

Can Depend on Toe
Glendale will be handicapped tomorrow by the loss of Scheidecker who starred at right and for the locals when they defeated Pasadena in the semi-finals. Scheidecker is sick and will probably be unable to play. Jack Packard, who is remarkably fast and has played a good game as a substitute, will start in Scheidecker's position at right wing. Otherwise the line-up will be practically the same.

Monte Killinger, Glendale's pile-driver fullback, who made both touchdowns against the Millionaires, will do his stuff for the locals tomorrow. He and Allevy Lovell have always been the leaders of Glendale's attack. Lovell trails his brother, Johnny, lightweight fullback, in place-kicking ability, and if the locals find their opponents hard to buck, will probably send the ball over the bar for a few field goals.

Lightweight Title
Besides the fleawright game Wednesday the lightweight tangle with Pasadena for the Class B championship of Southern California on Friday. Although it has not been definitely decided, it is thought by Glendale officials that the game will be played on Broadway field.

Saturday the Glendale Dynamiters meet Orange at Santa Ana in the semi-finals of the Southern California play-off.
So far the three Glendale teams have gone through the play-offs without a defeat. The fleawrights beat Pasadena in the semi-finals, 14 to 6, the lightweights entered the finals after eliminating San Bernardino 14 to 0, and Huntington Park, 10 to 7. The heavyweights, after playing a 6 to 6 tie with Van Nuys, beat Colton, 26 to 0. With all three teams going strong it looks like three Southern California championships for the Glendale gridders this year.

Probable Line-up
The probable line-up of the Glendale fleawrights for the game tomorrow with Huntington Park, follows:
Packard, R. E.; White, R. T.; Booth, R. G.; Laas, G.; McCullough, L. G.; Randall, L. T.; Wykoff, L. E.; Sunderland, G.; Mainland, R. H.; Lovell, L. H.; Killinger (c), F.
Probable substitutes—Dentry, Flach, Hemphill, Gorman, Nutt, Oeler, Muff, Hermann, Morrow, Doll, Hoffeditz and Kenny.

SPORTDOM ALL OVER

By JOSEPH L. KELLEY
Of The Evening News Staff.

Seems to be epidemic of incendiary bugs sweeping sports world embracing these parts. Bonfire started in stables at La Juana track did a lot of damage but didn't disturb the boys playing the mutuels. Races went on merrily and bookies took just as much coin of the realm as though fires were regular card events. White Sox park in Glendale witnessed the usual diamond stuff Sunday and after everyone had got their fill, stands went up in flames.

But—New York is where the boys know the values of flames. Down where whiskered tribe late of Palestine own all the push cart business, fires are as common as mosquitos in Jersey. Long-whiskered boys get tired of pushing carts and long to drape whiskers behind a counter. Cart turns up in ashes, insurance collected and new store opens in Hester street.

One match and a little of John D.'s product can settle a lot of arguments about size of bankroll.

Sam Compers, boss of laboring boys since Civil war days, may be a good labor boss, but he's not much of a sport. Sam crossed the international line from El Paso last week to give President-elect Calles the glad mitt. After mugging Calles with all the ceremony due a president of revolutions, Sam insisted upon taking in one of the bull fights. He had to be carried from the arena. Whether it was Sam's advanced years or the sight of blood, no one knows.

Frankie Grandetta, sheik of the bantweight class hereabouts whose name was often linked with Viola Dana, movie star, has turned up after an absence of many weeks. He's booked to don the mitts at Hollywood stadium Friday night. Frankie couldn't pass up the pulchritude of "wild" Hollywood. He sleeked his hair to a Valentino shine, got boulevard flashers sweating over a lot of flashy rags and hit the luncheon trail at the Montmartre. Lot of good boys in the ring have gone wrong along the luncheon trail.

Grandetta meets a tough little boy—Bill Hart (not Two-Gun Bill of the movies) but a miniature replica who can shoot just as straight with both hands. Bill met a tough little boy in Joe Oaks last Friday night in Hollywood and showed ring worms he was there.

Luis Angel Firpo, the only human ever to push Dempsey outside of four ropes, had the kick of a mule and a fighter's heart and nerve until—he took his share of the purse won at the Polo Grounds a year back and hit the luncheon and midnight supper trail at the Montmartre. Joe differed from Frankie in that he took the Paris Montmartre to turn the trick instead of Hollywood's imitation.

All in all it looks like a big night at Hollywood stadium next Friday. Joe Benjamin takes on Spud Myers in the spotlight position. This battle should give the boys a lot of post mortem conversation. Joe thinks he is in line for Benny Leonard's title. Spud knows he isn't. Benjamin can consider himself with Lady Luck if Spud doesn't mar his sheik's face. Spud knows his stuff.

Another fistcliff which should give the boys lots of post mortem conversation. Ray Newman vs. Ray Newman (no relation). Nick is a new light-heavy hereabouts. He slapped Pat Lester and a few of the would-be aspirants for Dempsey's crown around Oakland and Frisco and has been seen at Vernon, but Hollywood ring worms are strangers to him. Nick is rangy, has sparred with Dempsey, Sam Langford, and has youth in his favor. Mr. Newman (no relation) doesn't realize what kind of a party he's been invited to.

Boys from New York's salt mines gave Kansas City a thrill Sunday by booting the old pigskin around the Union station grounds. Salt miners are on their way to sunny end of California to put on cross word puzzle with Gummy Gus Henderson's outfit next Saturday at Coliseum.

Syracuse U. generally turns out a mean football squad. Big game cast is with Colgate. During World tussle Ye Ed fought the battle of the Marine Corps. Syracuse is now in the grounds in Syracuse. Time was October, height of "flu" period. Ye Ed saw Salt Miners do their stuff around Colgate while on an A. W. O. L. fur-lough from camp. Big dol's.

Jack Dempsey says he may never fight again. After his recent plastic surgery operation, building for himself a nose without a pug to it and being "married" to a half dozen movie actresses, Jack probably has decided fighting is no game for him. Jack should worry. His only reason for staying in the game is to gather the shekels, and he has gathered enough of them to keep

JOHN B. FOSTER'S VIEWS

Special Correspondence of the Glendale Evening News. Copyright, 1924 NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Negotiations are still in progress between Cincinnati and the Giants in regard affairs first baseman. If there is any hope that New York will let either Kelly or Terry go, the Reds are eager to have first call.

Aside from first base, the real hitch in the Red infield is at short. Caveney did not meet expectations there in 1924 and it may be that Bohne will be given a try at it next spring. There is also a youngster named Fowler who may get a crack at the job. Citz will start at second again and Dessen is practically certain to be the regular third baseman.

Christensen, of the St. Paul club, who is a fair outfielder and a pretty good batter, is a probable Red acquisition. Roush, of course, is a star. There are also Shorten, Elmer Smith, once with the Yanks, and Walker, once a Giant, and a Philly. This is not as impressive an outfield as might be assembled, and there will be a noticeable difference as compared with the outfield that Burns and Roush graced.

If Christensen could maintain the pace he has set in recent American association years he would help the Reds a lot. With Christensen, Roush and Smith, they would have a pretty good outfield.

The Reds would be willing to give cash to get either Kelly or Terry for the infield, but if they get either of them, it probably will not be for cash. McGraw is not any too likely to part with either of the pair, but if he does, it likely will be on a trade basis.

The Cincinnati president and manager already have come east and probably will remain here until after the major league meetings in the early part of December. Their idea, of course, is to get these parts are the place to get new players.

The trade between Pittsburgh and Chicago has Cincinnati guessing because possible strengthening of those teams makes it all the more imperative that the Reds keep in line with their western rivals if they hope to do well financially. Whenever the Reds cannot keep the Chicago-Pittsburgh pace, they are in for trouble. They have too many Sunday games in common in that section, and the Sunday games are their big money-makers.

McTigue and Walker To Meet on January 7

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Mike McTigue, world's light heavyweight champion, has accepted the challenge of Mickey Walker. They will meet in a 12-round contest in Newark, N. J., January 7.

FOOTBALL QUESTION BOX

If you have some question to ask about football—
If you want a rule interpreted—
If you want to know anything about a play—
Write Lawrence Perry, for fifteen years an authority on the game as writer and official. If you send a personal reply enclosed, a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Otherwise your question will be answered in this column.

ADDRESS: Lawrence Perry, Special Staff Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, 814 World Building, New York.

Copyright, 1924, by Evening News. QUESTION—Eligible forward pass receiver runs over goal line and into end zone to receive forward pass. He is tackled by a defender and end zone is thus out of bounds. But he has not yet received the forward pass. Can this be done?

ANSWER—The rule book has nothing to bear on this, but the rules committee has ruled that a player may do as above. But no one is eligible who has gone out of bounds by the sidelines or side line extended.

QUESTION—May a man who holds the ball for a kick-off recover that ball. He is off-side under the rule.

ANSWER—Yes, he is off-side under the rules, none the less the rule book has decided he may recover the ball if he can.

QUESTION—A player signals for a fair catch. The wind blows the ball away from him and it falls to the ground. Can he, or any of his team pick it up and run with it?

ANSWER—No.

QUESTION—The ball is snapped from the center to the quarter-back who passes it with both hands directly to the side to the fullback. The fullback is in the line and has an open play. The fullback drops the ball, but recovers it and runs through for a touchdown. The opposing team's claimant run should be disallowed because it was an incomplete forward pass. Will you please settle the argument?

ANSWER—If the fullback had made no effort to pass the ball forward, the claimant run would be allowed. The description of this play indicated the fullback dropped the ball upon receiving it from the quarter, before trying to make the forward pass. So of course he had a right to pick up his own fumble and do what he pleased with the ball. If he had not, the rest of his life.

NOTRE DAME GETS NATIONAL TITLE

Process of Elimination on Sectional Winners Is Told by Walsh

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Remove the tinfoil and tissue paper wrapping, wait a handful of dew over the collection and present the corsage of American beauties to Notre Dame university. For the first time these many years we have an unchallenged national champion of collegiate football and Notre Dame is it.

One can no more go behind the records than one can go behind the nape of his neck and the records show the Irish to be the only undefeated and untied football team of any consequence between the two oceans.

Dartmouth has as sound a record as any eleven in eastern football. Yet Dartmouth was tied by Yale, which in turn was tied by West Point, which lost to Notre Dame. Yale, another unbeaten eastern team, is eliminated from national consideration by the same equation.

Pennsylvania's record likewise is untarnished by defeat. But Pennsylvania was tied by Penn State, which was beaten by Georgia Tech, which lost to Notre Dame. So much for the east.

The middle west has Chicago as champion of its Big Ten conference, but the Stagg entry lost its opening game to Missouri, tied Illinois, and was tied by Ohio State and Wisconsin, which lost to Notre Dame. And what of Missouri? It was beaten by Nebraska, which also disposed of Kansas before coming on to South Bend to lose to Notre Dame. That would seem to eliminate the Missouri valley conference in toto as far as Notre Dame is concerned.

The southern champion is Centre college, because of its victories over Alabama and Georgia. But the Colonels finished second to West Virginia, which lost to Pittsburgh, which lost to Carnegie Tech, which lost to Notre Dame. Thus far the cycle of elimination is perfect. It leads back to South Bend, Ind., for its climax in every case.

Struggle on Coast
The only break in the continuity is found on the far coast which has had no contest to date with football as played in the east, middle west and south.

The championship team of the coast conference is Leland Stanford. It might be the greatest team in the world, at that, but you will exhaust your supply of rhetoric before you can convince a California man that this is fact, not fancy. California and Stanford played a 20-20 tie in their final game, so that even in its own section, Stanford's title is by no means conclusive.

If Stanford and Notre Dame are to meet in a post-season game, as has been suggested and never convincingly denied, the issue may be settled with definite finality. If not, Notre Dame rates the national championship without dissenting vote.

Workout Is Taken by Syracuse Grid Squad

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Dec. 2.—Declared by Coach Meehan to be in "fine fettle," the Syracuse university football squad took a brisk workout yesterday afternoon on the University of New Mexico field here. Coach Meehan and the squad of 23 men will leave here for Los Angeles where they battle the University of Southern California in an inter-sectional game next Saturday.

Ten Year Bad Case Completely Healed in a Short Time
Writes Florida Woman

Faced with the loss of her teeth, after 10 years' suffering, Mrs. M. J. Travis, an esteemed resident of Jacksonville, declares she finally saved her teeth by a simple home treatment: "worth its weight in gold," using her own words: "After having pyorrhea for 10 years my mouth is now healed. Before I found out differently I was told there was no remedy and had yielded to the loss of six fine solid teeth. Then I discovered Moore's pyorrhea treatment. Three days after starting its use, the soreness left my gums; my teeth began to tighten. Now my teeth are clean, my breath sweet and my mouth completely healed."

The experience of Mrs. Travis is duplicated in hundreds of other cases. If you have pyorrhea—or threatened with pyorrhea—your teeth are in danger. Quick and effective treatment is necessary. You can test, without money risk, the treatment used by Mrs. Travis. Simply write The Moreham Co., 206 Gateway Station, Kansas City, Mo. Under their guarantee of refund send two dollars. Or, pay postman the $2 with few cents postage. Use the treatment seven days. Then if you are not wholly satisfied, write to that effect and your $2 will be returned at once.—Advertisement.

BOY SCOUT TROOP

Exchangeites Vote to Assist In Work After First Aid Demonstration

The Glendale Exchange club will sponsor Boy Scout troop No. 12, it was decided at the meeting of the club held today noon at the Masonic temple. The action followed an address by Scout Executive H. R. Cheesman, and a first aid demonstration by three members of the troop, under the direction of Theron Rainey, senior patrolman.

President R. E. Johnston will appoint three members of a scout committee and an assistant scoutmaster at the next meeting, it was announced.

Changes in the by-laws were read for the first time today, and will be acted upon two weeks later. Under the proposed change the officers will include president, first vice-president, second vice-president and secretary, elected by the club. Dr. H. R. Harrower was named as candidate for the office of first vice-president, and C. M. Christy as candidate for second vice-president. T. F. Culhane was nominated for secretary, an office which becomes elective instead of appointive under the new system. The election of officers will be held two weeks from today.

President Johnston was presented with a complete desk set in appreciation of his work during the past year. The presentation speech was made by Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson. Funds will be collected during the next few weeks from the members for Christmas work, it was announced.

FELINE BEAUTIES

VIE FOR RIBBONS

Glendale Cat Show Finds Prize Specimens at Annual Judging

Feline champions of all colors and classes are mewing for favor at the sixth championship show of the Glendale Cat club, now being held at Hahn's auditorium, 109-A North Brand boulevard. Blue eyes, brown eyes and green eyes flash jealously, as Mrs. Kathryn Ross, judge, bestows her attention first on that big, beautiful brown tabby, Kietto II, of Mrs. Frank Bundy; then on that superb silver, It-Too, of Mrs. L. W. Ashcroft; and then on that wondrous, cubby, blue, Lavender General, of Miss Claribel Grim, likewise from the boulevards of Manhattan.

And oh! and ah! that marvel of white, with the china-blue eyes, Powder Puff Chimes, of Mrs. Frank Bundy, twice a Glendale winner. Where is your cute little son, Tinkles, who sat in the little chair at last year's show, Powder Puff, and quite won everyone's heart? Little Tinkles almost broke one heart, when he fell from a box and was fatally injured, some months back. Never another kitten such as that, sighs Mrs. Bundy. His future was truly brilliant, and his absence from this year's show has cast a gloom over everyone.

Known only as "Babe," the girl was slain in a hotel here six weeks ago, according to detectives, who said on the night of her disappearance screams were heard in her room. According to Captain of Detectives James Bean, the girl was well known at the hotel where she lived, but was called only "Babe" and "Hard-Hearted Hannah."

That the owners of the hotel had suppressed news of the girl's death, was charged by Bean. Seattle detectives are co-operating with men here in the investigation, it was said.

LIGHTNING RODS

CUT FIRE LOSSES

U. S. Bureau Of Standards Says 95 Per Cent Of Wires Effective

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Lightning rods reduce the danger of fires in electrical storms 95 per cent, according to the United States bureau of standards.

Most of the fire damage from "rodded houses" results from bad installation, it was stated.

"The chief usefulness of the lightning rod is to receive and dissipate the lightning stroke and to prevent strokes by gradual drainage of thunderstorm electricity, as is sometimes assumed," bureau officials said.

"It has been shown that the amount of electricity thus removed from the air by gradual drainage is too small to be of practical consequence, and that rodded buildings are little less likely to be struck than buildings not rodded."

"In designing lightning rod installations, therefore, it is considered necessary to assume that direct strokes will occur, and to provide rods that will dispose of such strokes without damage to the building or danger to its occupants."

SAN FERNANDO

PROTESTS DENIED

City Council Finds Less Than Half Property Owners Protested

All protests were denied by the Glendale City Council on the widening of San Fernando road, when it was established that less than 50 per cent of the affected property owners had registered a protest, and the city attorney stated that title search would at once be instituted. The council agreed not to order proceedings started until the search has progressed to a point where such proceedings could be started without risk of loss by delay.

On request of L. H. Wilson, representing a delegation of property owners, the council set December 4 as the date for a hearing on the proposed paving proceedings.

F. F. Foster, sales manager of the Bent Concrete Pipe Co. of Los Angeles, appeared before the council with a request that competitive bids be had on various types of pipe for the Glendale sewer system. No action was taken.

Washington absorbed considerable attention and the meeting of Congress generally classed as a bearish factor in the stock market, will be closely followed for indications of the trend of new business legislation. It is believed in Wall Street that little may be expected from the short session of the Congress, after which the country will be allowed to enjoy a "long legislative holiday." Business and industrial developments of the day were favorable, the steel corporation reporting its operations at 73 per cent of capacity against 70 per cent a year ago, and the independents at 70 per cent.

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Considerable hesitancy prevailed in the stock market today and both in the number of shares sold and in the movements of individual stocks, the records were somewhat below those of the last three or four sessions.

Railroad shares were the leaders in another brisk upward movement of prices in the forenoon and both profit-taking and short selling were easily absorbed as Wabash common was preferred, Missouri Kansas and Texas, Kansas City Southern and other railroad shares swept along to new high prices. The year's specialties like United States Realty, which completed a 29 point rise from the low of last week, U. S. Distributor, Reynolds Spring and Industrials which enjoyed the sponsorship of strong bullish pool movement. But the forward movement in the main body of stocks was under pressure, and this was accelerated as soon as the advance in the rails and specialties had spent its force.

Washington absorbed considerable attention and the meeting of Congress generally classed as a bearish factor in the stock market, will be closely followed for indications of the trend of new business legislation. It is believed in Wall Street that little may be expected from the short session of the Congress, after which the country will be allowed to enjoy a "long legislative holiday." Business and industrial developments of the day were favorable, the steel corporation reporting its operations at 73 per cent of capacity against 70 per cent a year ago, and the independents at 70 per cent.

Professional traders were generally bearish today and their feelings of speculative leaders, like General Electric, American and Baldwin, prevented any extended rally in prices in that direction. The dependent steels and the copper which were the leaders in the forward movement in the last few sessions were heavy, though losses were mostly fractional. The oils were steady. Shipping stocks again gave a good account of themselves, with Atlantic Gulf and Marine preferred at the top of the present movement.

Stock sales totaled today 1,598,200 shares; bonds $16,082,000.

Sears-Roebuck show a 10 per cent increase in sales in November over the same month of 1923, while Montgomery Ward shows 20 per cent for the month and the year so far.

The advance of 15 points in Famous Players preferred this year suggests a real improvement in the company's affairs, according to the E. F. Hutton & Co. wire.

Politically the present session of Congress is not expected by the stock traders to be either important or disturbing. The president's message is expected to have a constructive influence on business, the important factor, it is pointed out, is the long term outlook for intelligent legislation after March 4.

WHITE SOX FIRE

BLAMED TO FOES

Owner of Glendale Ball Team Says Enemies Started Grandstand Blaze

Frank Kerwin, owner of the Glendale White Sox, and Grant Leischner, his partner, today issued a statement in which they denied that the lease covering the ball park on San Fernando road was terminated last Friday by Roy Johnson, owner of the tract, and claim the fire which destroyed the grandstand Sunday afternoon was started by persons opposed to their activities.

The lease was made over a year ago, they stated, and was to run eight years. A clause gave them the privilege of renewing the lease for two years at the expiration of that time, they said.

No insurance was carried on the grandstand and clubhouse, Kerwin said. The policy placed on the structures when they were built expired about four months ago, and was not renewed. Total loss resulted. Kerwin was in Glendale yesterday conducting an investigation to determine the cause of the blaze.

The strange disappearance of James Wynn, San Bernardino taxicab driver, and the finding of his blood-stained car, could not be connected today with the fire mystery. The investigating officer said there was nothing to show that Wynn had, as reported, carried principal witnesses in the investigation in his car recently.

Mrs. Anna Sutton Fee, the banker's widow, declared her husband, she was certain, had been murdered. At the same time it was intimated Mrs. Fee intended, if necessary, to launch a legal battle for the possession of love letters exchanged between her husband and Miss Watkins. The packet of letters is now in the possession of Sheriff Shay, who has refused to give them to the widow.

The treasury department would receive $15,140,000 for tax refunds. Most of this would be used to repay taxes refunded under the 25 per cent retroactive order by Congress in 1923 income tax.

A total of about $7,000,000 was authorized for irrigation projects. Of this $225,000 could be spent to investigate tentative projects in Idaho, Nebraska, Wyoming, Nevada, Oregon, Utah and Washington.

FINAL CALL FOR 1923 INCOME TAX

Seventeen Thousand Bills Mailed to Be Paid Before Dec. 15

Seventeen thousand bills for the final payment of tax on 1923 incomes, which must be paid on or before December 15, will be mailed to Southern California taxpayers on December 1. Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodell said yesterday that the small number of income tax accounts which must be paid in December reflected a convincing condition of business prosperity in Southern California.

The collector's figures show that 252,000 income returns were filed on March 15 and that by the time the third quarterly payment was due on September 15, 265,000 of these accounts had been paid in full, only 17,000 taking advantage of the privilege under the law of making a fourth quarterly payment on December 15. Under ordinary circumstances, about 70,000 bills are sent out for the December payment.

He explained that the December bills allowed full credit for the 25 per cent reduction allowed under the revenue act of 1924 and that the amount stated on each bill was the net balance due. With the taxes on 1923 income cleaned up by the December payment the revenue bureau is preparing to send out income blanks on which 1924 incomes will be reported. Three hundred thousand taxpayers will receive these blanks but they will not be sent out until after January 1.

"These 300,000 blanks for 1924 income reports will be a pleasant New Year's gift to the people, for they provide for sweeping reductions in income tax rates," the collector said.

PLAYERS PLEASE IN PRIZE COMEDY

"Mamma's Affair" New Play At Clubhouse Tells of Domestic Life

"Mamma's Affair," the Harvard prize play, presented this week by the Dobinson Players at the Club Playhouse, is proclaimed by those who have seen it a comedy drama of rare enjoyment. The cast has been well chosen and each member is fitted to his or her role. The play is a domestic drama of the New England foothills, Miss Rachel Barton Butler, the young dramatist responsible for "Mamma's Affair," pictures two mothers and a son. They are bent upon marrying their offspring to each other, although the two younger people are unsuited. And to make matters worse, the girl's mother is a most trying hypochondriac, and the boy's only remaining parent is much the same, but in a different way.

Imaginary Ills Finally, the imaginary ills of the mother drive the girl to a real nervous breakdown. A doctor is called in and correctly diagnoses her case as too much mother, and an overdose of her youthful, unwilling suitors. During the course of treatment that follows, the doctor becomes so interested in his case as to forget the dreams of a bachelor and the girl responds to his treatment so readily that they soon find themselves in love with each other. It is in this manner that the author brings her play to a close with happiness for those who deserve it.

Gertrude Keller takes the part of Mrs. Orrin, the fussy mamma, Mary Isabelle Alpaugh portrays Eve, her daughter Dr. Jansen is played by Joseph McManus, while William H. Stephens portrays Henry Marchant. Mrs. Marchant, a life-long friend of Mrs. Orrin, is played by Thyra Ruhland and Laura Winston plays Mrs. Bundy, while completing the cast is Richard Ehlers as Tommy Hooper.

Recommend No Union Depot In Los Angeles

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Examiners of the Interstate Commerce commission have recommended that the commission authorize the Southern Pacific railroad to abandon its passenger and freight train service, except industrial freight switching service and certain portions of its main line on Alameda street in Los Angeles. At the same time the examiners recommended that the commission hold that public convenience and necessity do not require the construction of an extension by the Southern Pacific, and the Los Angeles and Salt Lake railroads of new lines of railroad in Los Angeles. The commission should also hold, the examiners said, that it does not appear at the present stage of proceedings that the present or future public convenience will require the construction of a Union passenger terminal facilities in the Plaza district, as sought by the city of Los Angeles. The commission was asked to hold this case open for 120 days of consolidation with such further applications as the defendants may file looking toward the construction of Union passenger terminal facilities.

WOMEN CONSIDER GIRL SCOUT WORK

Legion Auxiliary Planning Adoption of Troop; Welfare Service

Sponsoring a Girl Scout troop was considered by the Women's Auxiliary of the Glendale American Legion post, in a meeting last night at the home of the president, Mrs. E. W. Gilliland, 415 East Stocker street. Girl Scout work is advocated by the national president, and the local auxiliary, it was said, probably will adopt a troop and choose a captain from among their own ranks. Mrs. J. E. Buie of Troop 6, Glendale Girl Scouts, addressed the meeting. Child welfare work, particularly among children of ex-service men, was considered. The Glendale auxiliary is planning work among the children during the holiday time. Clothing is being collected and at last night's meeting everyone attending brought a Christmas gift for a child.

Plans for the Christmas cheer for ex-service men at Sawtelle are progressing, and it is expected that Glendale will provide for 200 men. Mrs. Gilliland gave a report on the recent luncheon at the place. Mrs. Margaret Kaeding read a paper on "The Spirit of Christmas."

Leo Korte Returned To Chicago for Trial

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—Leo Korte, "Bayano Oil bubble" swindler, is home to face the hundreds of millions. Surrounded by attorneys, representatives of trustees and police officials, the man who had been living as a patron of the arts at Halifax arrived on second Monday and was taken immediately to the state's attorney's office. He returned a prisoner almost exactly a year after he was expected back in triumph from New York with the report of investigators of his great Panama oil project which was to have made his family and friends fabulously wealthy.

Yosemite Sends Power To San Joaquin Valley

YOSEMITE, Cal., Dec. 2.—Hydro-electric power generated in Yosemite National park was being distributed today to the San Joaquin valley following a co-operative agreement between the national park service and the San Joaquin Light & Power Co. Chief Electrician J. W. Emmert said the San Joaquin company will supply the park during emergencies, but that on the whole the park plant will distribute a large surplus to the private concern. This co-operative agreement between the national park service and the San Joaquin Light and Power company is a private company—is probably the only contract of its kind in the state or the country, according to park officials.

Month Closes With Five Cases Yet Unsolved In Southern California

By GIL A. COWAN For Southern News Service. LOS ANGELES, Dec. 2.—November closed with a record number of baffling murders in Southern California, as well as a half dozen more in which the guilty parties either committed suicide or were apprehended. Criminal detection forces are at sea to explain the deaths of the following: William R. Fee, Alhambra banker, whose body was found dead near the cabin of Mary Watkins in the San Bernardino mountains following a week-end trip. Arthur L. Haverstick, Los Angeles contractor, whose body was found bullet ridden on the beach near Serra station in Orange county. Frederic W. Ferrer, manufacturing chemist, whose body was found in an unoccupied house at Glendale under mysterious circumstances. Albert Rosenblum, real estate salesman, who was shot while parking his automobile near his home. Harry I. Katz, eccentric violinist and diamond merchant, who was called to the door of his Ambassador apartments and shot.

Opinions Differ In the Fee case there is a difference of opinion regarding the manner in which the banker came to his death. One surgeon says his skull was fractured. Another says it was not. One investigator believes he was murdered. Another thinks he fell out of a tree while watching the Watkins' cabin. Business associates believe he was murdered. An intimate friend thinks he died of natural causes. The San Bernardino and Los Angeles county sheriffs' offices are at loss for definite clues.

Names mentioned in notes between the elderly banker, who was married, and Miss Watkins, aged 30, who confessed their love for each other, are being checked by Sheriff Shoy of San Bernardino today and investigators are interviewing these persons. In the Haverstick murder Sheriff Sam Jernigan of Orange county is seeking Elmer Christensen, said to be a sailor of the crew of the U. S. S. Arctic, to learn if he was a member of what a Mexican witness described as a wild party of sailors whom he saw on the beach shortly before the murder. Christensen and Haverstick quarreled over a child born to Mrs. Christensen which is now in the custody of the dead man's mother, it was learned. Footprints of a woman on the sand near Haverstick's car is another clue which is causing the sheriff to check over the large list of women's names in the contractor's personal effects.

French Chemist Case Ferrer's death in Lankershim may have been the result of chemical fumes for he was experimenting with a new perfume, it was reported. Today officers are endeavoring to learn if Ferrer was sent to America on a secret mission by the French government, having come from that country five years ago. He had been a resident of Los Angeles for four years and employed as a manufacturing chemist. Murder for a perfume formula is suspected in the Ferrer case as he boasted that his notebook, from which pages now are missing, was worth $10,000 to him. Although he was a jovial man, he always was secretive about his work and his past, recent employers declared.

In the Rosenblum and Katz killings the police attribute the murders to associates of the dead men. Investigations are still under way and sooner or later the slayers will be brought to justice, detectives said. For the present officers are wishing that those contemplating self-sufficiency, murder or other high crimes would give them a brief respite in which to solve November mysteries.
